Work Scheme For Single Relief Men

OTTAWA PLANS ABOLITION OF CAMP SYSTEM

Federal Government Considers Means of Assisting Relief Camp Single Men Into Jobs in Industry; Strikers Back in Vancouver Meet This Afternoon to Decide Course

Food Is Provided To-day, To-morrow

Ottawa, July 8.—With reports before them showing the average length of time a man stays in relief camps has been two and one-half months, and that 116,000 have passed through them since their inception, leaving fewer than 12,000 in the camps at present, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and his fellow ministers devoted a morning cabinet session to the problem to-day.

Efforts will be made, it is understood, to formulate a plan by which the single unemployed may be placed on an independent wage earning basis in industry, through some form of government assistance to replace the camp system, but no details are known as yet.

In the meantime a report reached the Prime Minister's office to-day that a call for 500 agricultural workers circulated among the relief camp strikers congregated in Winnipeg was further complicated by the strike of some 125 of the 500 single unemployed who have been sheltered in the Rockcliffe Camp near Ottawa.

CONFERENCES HELD
The Rockcliffe incident was not unexpected, officials said, as they were aware agitators had been working among the men for some weeks, endeavoring to bring about a demonstration in sympathy with the British Columbia and Alberta strikers when they were at Regina. It was a tribute to the men and the camp management, one official said, that so small a number responded to the call.

Conferences were being held to-day between government representatives and those who are on strike at the Valcartier relief camp, and with the Rockcliffe group.

American League Stars In Victory

Win All-star Baseball Battle From National Leaguers For Third Straight Year 4 to 1; Foxx Hits Home Run; Game at Cleveland Stadium Draws 69,812
Cleveland Stadium, July 8.—Making only four substitutions in the entire game, the American League all-stars to-day trounced the National League's hand-picked baseball forces for the third straight year. The final score was 4 to 1 as Lefty Gomez and Mel Harder combined to pitch a four-hit game for the benefit of a crowd numbering 69,812 in paid attendance. An hour before game time threatening clouds accumulated over the huge stadium and chances for a sell-out crowd vanished.

The American Leaguers collected a total of eight hits off the combined offerings of Bill Walker, St. Louis Cardinal southpaw, Hal Schumacher,

Veterinarians Gather Here

Pacific Northwestern Convention Opened at Empress Hotel To-day

With Mayor Leeming extending a civic welcome the annual convention of the Pacific Northwestern Veterinary Medical Association opened in the Prince Albert room of the Empress Hotel this morning at 10 o'clock.

Almost 130 members and their wives from all parts of Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia had registered by noon, and many more were expected by Dr. Graham Gilliam of Cloverdale, secretary of the convention before the day was over.

Residence—fine programmes of papers and lectures of interest to veterinarians, the committee in charge of the convention has looked after the social end which will culminate in a banquet and dance in the Empress Hotel to-morrow evening. A special programme has been arranged for the wives and ladies attending the convention, with Mrs. H. J. Keown and Mrs. W. A. Gunn serving as hostesses to-day for the visitors.

The inaugural meeting of the convention opened with Dr. H. J. Keown in the chair. Mayor Leeming welcomed the delegates on behalf of the City of Victoria, and remarked on the beauty of the Pacific northwest in which they were all fortunate enough to live.

Dr. B. T. Simms, professor of veterinary surgery in the Oregon State University, replied on behalf of the visiting delegates.
On account of the unavoidable absence of Dr. E. C. Macdonald, Dr. W. A. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner, extended greetings from the Department of Agriculture. Dean E. E. Wegner of Pullman, Washington, responded.

Towson, Mont., July 8.—Jack Reynolds and his long lost pet, "Buckie," a three-year-old deer, have been reunited.

Bureaucracy Growth Here Needs Watching

J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., Speaks Before Annual Convention of Law Society of British Columbia; New Rules For Law Students Discussed

The growth of bureaucracy in Canada "is something that should be watched," said J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., in delivering the inaugural address at the opening of the second annual convention of the Law Society of British Columbia at the Empress Hotel to-day.

He defined this danger as resulting from the tendency of governments to delegate to officials rights which men have taken away from them.

"Both political parties are identified with the same sort of thing," Mr. Farris went on.

He instanced the Securities Frauds Act of British Columbia as one of the chief offending measures.

"In my opinion that act goes too far as it gives power to investigate business men, send auditors into the offices and to sit in judgment on the conduct of these men without any real opportunity of a trial being given," Mr. Farris said. "I think that such a statute goes too far."

Mr. Farris was unanimously re-elected treasurer of the B.C. society on the nomination of Frank Higgins.

PIRATES GET $32,000 LOOT

Five Thugs Surprise Crew of Barge Monte Carlo Off California Coast

Associated Press
Long Beach, Calif., July 8.—Five pirates to-day boarded the luxurious gambling barge, Monte Carlo, chained its crew and escaped with what Ed Turner, owner of the boat, estimated was $32,000 in cash and jewelry.

The attack on the Monte Carlo, which became piracy on the high seas because the big steel barge is anchored about eight miles off shore, was made while most of the crew were asleep.

Turner said the loot consisted of $22,000 in cash and $10,000 in jewelry left as security by patrons of the Monte Carlo.

The pirates came alongside in a fishing boat under the cover of heavy fog. Some remained in the boat while five men boarded the Monte Carlo.

The boarding crew carried chains, and were armed with revolvers, rifles and sawed-off shotguns.

The pirates were described as wearing black silk stockings over their heads. Only the "mop up" crew of bartenders and janitors was at work when the attack occurred, the last patrons having left for home at 3 a.m.

Hotels Report Travel Better

Improved Travel Movement Reflected By Guests at Local Hostleries

City hotels, canvassed to-day to secure an index of the tourist movement, show a definitely improved travel movement in comparison with the beginning of July last year.

"Already there is a noticeable advance in the number of guests staying at the Empress over last year at this time, and the prospects for a greatly improved season is particularly bright," said J. K. Hodges, manager of the Empress Hotel to-day.

"Our advance reservations are also in excess of last year, and we look for a very active period during the balance of July and in August."

"There is undoubtedly a distinct improvement over last year."

With the annual meeting of the Law Society of British Columbia and the Veterinarian's convention under way to-day, the lobby of the Empress Hotel was thronged with visitors, and all boats and planes added to the list of arriving travelers.

Former Trade Minister Announces He Heads New Party In Election

Statements By Parties Awaited

No Declarations on Stevens Move Yet By King Or Bennett

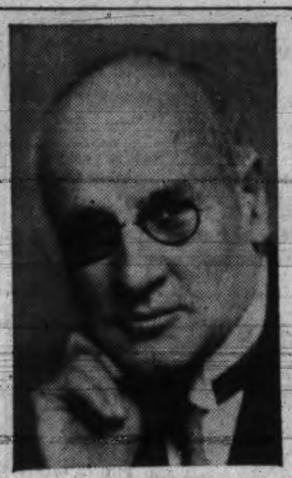

Ottawa, July 8.—Announcement by Hon. H. H. Stevens of the formation of a new political party in Canada so far has gone without comment from leaders of the parties now represented in the House of Commons.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was advised of the development but would make no comment at the moment.

Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, was in the country over the week-end and out of touch.

James S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre and leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, and Robert Gardiner, U.F.A., member for Acadia and leader of the United Farmers, had left for their homes in the west.

Following closely on the propagation of the last session of the seventeenth Parliament Mr. Stevens' announcement came as the first major political development, although not entirely unexpected. Last Friday saw the final deliberations of Parliament and dispersal of the members which, for many, will be a last good-bye to (Turn to Page 16, Col. 2)

Associated Press
Krasnovishensk, Ural Area, U.S.S.R., July 8.—A Meteor, which passed high over this town in a fiery streak to-day, exploded with such force it shook the houses throughout the district.

Its passage was accompanied by a thunderous noise. The explosion, presumably before the fragments struck the earth, occurred three minutes later while the sky was still marked with a smoky trail.

Victoria Woman Is Cited For Bravery

Royal Humane Association Recognizes Feat of Seventy-year-old Mrs. M. F. Masters, Kingston Street, Who Saved Child at Langford Lake

Mrs. Margaret F. Masters, 218 Kingston street, seventy years of age, who heroically rescued a drowning child in Langford Lake on April 19, has been cited by the Royal Canadian Humane Association for her act and will receive a parchment certificate as the association's award.

Two other British Columbians shared in the honor list announced by the association to-day, both being mainland men, who received the highest award of the organization, bronze medals for heroic conduct in life saving.

Mrs. Masters, who has been a resident of Victoria for many years, is an ardent swimmer despite her advanced years, and despite the fact that she only learned swimming twenty years ago. She resides with her husband.

The mainland awards went to Richard L. Seeley, of Wilson's Landing, and Thomas F. Townley, of New Westminster. Nine bronze medals, two bars, and twenty-seven parchments were awarded throughout the Dominion.

Passenger on a car ferry on Okanagan Lake February 1 last, Richard L. Seeley jumped into the lake to the aid of five persons trapped in a motor car which ran off the end of the wharf into twelve feet of water.

C.P.R. To Build Great Liner

Canadian Press from Havas
London, July 8.—Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, said before sailing from Southampton for Canada yesterday a sister ship of the Empress of Britain would be built.

"We shall need a new liner of the same type as the Empress of Britain," Sir Edward said, "to give a balanced service."

He added an order would be placed two years before withdrawal from service of the Empress of Australia and the question of replacing that liner would come up within the next five years.

Policy Will Be Programme He Has Advocated Since Price Spreads Inquiry Was Launched, He States; Hopes to Have Candidates in All Commons Constituencies in Canada

Ottawa, July 8.—Canada has a new political party to-day, a party without a name, but fully equipped with a leader, a policy and a provisional executive.

The leader is Hon. Harry H. Stevens, former Conservative Minister of Trade and Commerce, and the policy is the programme he has been advocating for the last year or two.

Mr. Stevens took political circles by surprise yesterday evening when he announced he would lead a new force at the coming general election, although in view of his differences with his fellow Conservatives some statement from him was expected.

Numerous candidates
The Stevens party would fight the election battle on all fronts, he announced. It would place candidates in all constituencies, and Mr. Stevens would conduct a coast-to-coast campaign.

MANY MESSAGES
Mr. Stevens to-day stated he had received during the night and this morning a large volume of telegrams of support and congratulations from citizens and organizations, including a prominent Conservative organization. The messages were from "all over Canada."

BUSY TO-DAY
The former minister was busy with preliminary preparations of the manifesto setting out the aims and ambitions of his new party.

The manifesto would be issued about next week-end, when the name of the new party also would be announced.

Details of the manifesto would be made public in a statement issued, rather than by way of a public address, he intimated.

FOR "FORGOTTEN MAN"
In making his announcement yesterday evening Mr. Stevens promised a battle for the rights of the "forgotten man" would be waged by the new organization. Its backers would consist of five main groups—workers, farmers, merchants, the "white collar class" and small manufacturers, all of whom were opposed to government in the interest of the great corporations, he said.

Little Headway For New Party

Premier Pattullo Says Stevens Move Will Be Mostly Talk

Vancouver, July 8.—Cheered by what he regarded as solid improvement in northern British Columbia, Premier T. D. Pattullo returned to Vancouver to-day with the statement that the new Stevens party "won't accomplish very much," and that the New Westminster bridge is still to be built.

"These new parties always appear in times like these," he said. "This one will create a lot of discussion, and it may affect the results in a few constituencies, but it can't change the final result."

The Premier expressed the opinion the net result might well be to increase the Liberal vote.

Asked about a report from Ottawa that he planned to build the New Westminster bridge even if the Department of Marine did not approve the plans, Mr. Pattullo replied emphatically the bridge would be built.

"We do not anticipate any difficulty about the plans," he said. "The delay in approving them is probably due to the fact they are very busy in (Turn to Page 6, Col. 1)

Tax Returns For Half Year Higher

Good Increase Shown in City Collections, Semi-annual Survey Reveals; Other Revenues Up

Tax collections in the city for the first six months of 1935 stand 5.37 per cent above those for the corresponding period last year, it was revealed to-day by D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, in a semi-annual survey.

Of a total current levy amounting to $1,684,487.40, including frontage taxes, the city has collected by the end of last month, $816,572.90, or 50.87 per cent of the aggregate amount. Last year the levy was $1,747,282.19, and at the end of June $442,041.22, or 35.3 per cent of the total had been collected.

In the arrears list a healthy increase was also noted, the aggregate collections for the first six months being $84,656.13, against $75,101.98 for the similar period in 1934.

ARREARS UP
Of a total of $389,000 outstanding one-year-old arrears listed at the beginning of the year, $50,875.40, or 13.08 per cent had been collected at the end of last month. Last year the total one-year-old arrears were set at $386,884.91, of which $44,476.58, or 11.5 per cent, had been paid by the end of June, 1934.

A slight reduction in collections was seen in the two-year-old arrears this year, no direct campaign having yet been staged to bring in those sums. However, of $322,648.12 outstanding, $33,660, or 10.43 per cent, had been paid in by last month. During the preceding year the total was $248,628.80, of which $29,838.51, or 12 per cent, had been collected during the first six months.

Associated Press
Fort Peck, Mont., July 8.—Between 150 and 200 families fled to safety to-day when Galpin Coulee became a raging torrent that swept down on the mushroom towns of Midway, Park Grove, New Deal and Parkdale.

The wall of water swept over the four little communities housing workers at the great federal project here after an hour's downpour on the benchlands had flooded the area with two inches of precipitation.

The towns, largely groups of flimsy structures, were heavily damaged.

Thomas Townley's medal is for swimming for help when he and two friends were thrown out of a boat during a tide-rise in English Bay, August 20, 1933. Picked up by a passing boat, he was able to warn other craft to be on the lookout for his friends.

Finding an old punt, unaided and with great difficulty she brought them both to land.

Business Suspended As Parade Takes Attention of Thousands; Visitors From All Parts of Continent

Calgary, July 8.—Stampede Week, bringing visitors from all parts of Canada and the United States to this city, opened today with a colorful parade of the old west. Hundreds of cowboys and Indians and pioneers of the Calgary Stampede rode along the streets jammed with thousands of visitors and citizens.

For one hour, business was at a standstill, with all stores closed, as the picturesque parade held the attention of Calgarians.

Creaking, jolting Red River carts, drawn by shuffling cows and ranch chuck wagons, with prancing range horses, brought the pioneer back to the old west. Modern, stream-lined automobiles and big decorated truck floats showed the present day trend in transportation.

At 3 p.m. Maj. General Sir James MacBrien, Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, escorted by a squadron of sixty red-coated riders, declared the Stampede officially opened.

MEETING IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, July 8.—Relief camp workers, returned from Regina and supplied with two days' food and lodging, were quiet this morning and awaiting the meeting in the Empress Theatre this afternoon at which they will decide whether or not to return to the camps.

The men arrived by Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railway specials early Sunday morning on transportation furnished by the Saskatchewan government. At Kamloops coffee was sent on board by courtesy of the same government.

While driving along the shore of Lake Pudeah, August 28, 1934, Miss C. A. Folkard of Picton, Ont., answered cries for help and found two men struggling in the water, one of them in a very weakened condition. Finding an old punt, unaided and with great difficulty she brought them both to land.

Permission for this afternoon's meeting was given by Col. W. W. Foster, chief of police. The men are billeted in rooming houses and eating in restaurants.

Mayor G. G. McGeer has stated that no relief, other than that extended to day and Tuesday, will be supplied either by the provincial or city government.

"The city of Vancouver is in exactly the same position as it was when the strikers were here before," said the mayor. "These men cannot be classed as indigent when the Dominion Government is offering them food and shelter in relief camps. Consequently they are not entitled to relief in the city."

to act under the Kellogg-Briand pact to avert hostilities, was termed more diplomatic.

HOPES DWINDLE

London, July 8.—Hopes of peace between Italy and Ethiopia steadily dwindle.

Anglo-French conversations have failed to yield any plan for settlement of the dispute. The British regard the outlook as dark in the extreme, but they have not yet lost hope.

Sir George Clerk, British ambassador in Paris, will see Premier Pierre Laval again.

On neither the British nor the French side, it is authoritatively stated today, has there been any proposal of a resort to economic sanctions against Italy. The conversations are confined to attempts to find a satisfactory formula for settlement. A definite decision is expected to be announced to the House of Commons Thursday by Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, during the debate on foreign affairs.

Joseph A. G. Avenol, secretary-general of the League of Nations, will arrive here to-night and will consult Sir Samuel and Sir Ron. Anthony Eden to-morrow concerning the Italian crisis.

Morning newspapers generally applauded President Roosevelt's stand of polite but aloof interest in Ethiopia's troubles.

ON PLATEAU

Unless Mussolini intends to strike at the heart of Ethiopia and conquer its central plateau, Field Director T. A. Lambie of the Abyssinian mission service said today, there is likely to be little war between Italy and the northeast African empire.

Dr. Lambie, an intimate friend of Emperor Haile Selassie, now in London seeking to organize an ambulance corps for Ethiopia, said:

"Only a small force of tribal warriors, who would be unable to offer much resistance to the large Italian army, protects the Ethiopian border. The highlanders, who comprise the great majority of Haile Selassie's troops, dread descending into the hot, pestilence-ridden desert lowlands."

Dr. Lambie indicated the aversion of uplanders to the lowlands might avert hostilities, other than frontier clashes. If Dr. Lambie is content to seize low level territory linking the Italian colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland.

"The border tribes are fierce, almost fanatical fighters," he asserted. "They

Stevens Completes Break With Bennett

LETTERS TOTAL 20,000.

Steps leading to his acceptance of the leadership of the party in the making were outlined by Mr. Stevens. Since leaving the cabinet of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett last October he had received about 20,000 letters from Canadians in many walks of life all asking him to head a reform movement. To all he had answered he was not interested in leading a party but only in securing adequate legislation.

FROM HAMILTON

Last Friday a meeting of his supporters was held in Hamilton which was a delegation of three to interview him in Ottawa. The three, Warren Cook of Toronto, Thomas D. Lison of Hamilton and Thomas V. Bell of Montreal, met Mr. Stevens Saturday.

Presented a petition asking him to head a new party and received his assurance he would do so. All three were described by Mr. Stevens as prominent businessmen.

Evidence of a desire for a new party coupled with his own opinion the legislation enacted at the last session of Parliament was inadequate, Mr. Stevens stated.

Mr. Stevens said his transcanada speaking tour would be made as soon as the campaign was launched.

"RECONSTRUCTION AND REFORM"

"On Saturday last," Mr. Stevens stated in the announcement he issued yesterday evening, "a delegation representing many thousands of citizens resident in all parts of Canada, waited on me and presented a petition asking that I accept leadership of a party having for its object a reconstruction and reform programme similar to that which I have been advocating during the past eighteen months of citizenship."

"This delegation, on behalf of those whom they represent, claimed the right to present this programme to the people of Canada as their views might be expressed thereon. Furthermore, they declare—and I agree with them—that it is contrary to the spirit of true Canadian democracy that our country's economic life should pass under the control of a privileged class, which, unfortunately, is exactly what has occurred. It is contended also that it is the duty of the Dominion government to protect our people from unfair exploitation, and to ensure to them equitable treatment and to the youth of Canada, a free opportunity for a normal Canadian livelihood."

"As I share these views, and realizing both old parties are indelibly involved in the present system of concentration of control wealth, I have decided to accept this call to leadership, believing in this way we can secure for the people the best opportunity to express their will."

HEADQUARTERS IN OTTAWA

The announcement of the former minister was made at a press conference. Headquarters of the new organization would be in Ottawa, he said.

He would be a candidate in the general election, Mr. Stevens stated in answer to a volley of questions, although he did not indicate in what constituency. He had an illustration of himself in the Parliament hall now going out of existence, had not held the Conservative convention to select a standard-bearer, he remarked, "but naturally I will not be running as a Conservative candidate."

Of the three delegates who had presented him with the petition from the Hamilton meeting, the former minister said Mr. Cook was president of the Garment Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Bell was head of a printing and binding business in Montreal, and Mr. Lison was well known in the publishing business in Hamilton. The three "simply are acting as citizens."

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES

Mr. Stevens said the 20,000 letters he had received since he resigned his portfolio last October as a minister of the crown, represented cross-sections of the country.

Classified, forty-one were from boards of trade and business associations, fifty-two from business men of a general character, twenty-three from farmers and fishermen, twenty-five from financial people, thirty-five from the legal profession, one from a Liberal organization, six from lodges and clubs, twenty-eight from manufacturers' agents, twelve from mayors of cities, seventeen from the medical profession, twenty-six from members of Parliament, thirty-three from newspapermen and journalists, seventeen from retail merchants' associations, ninety from merchants, ten from seamen and commercial travelers, thirteen from labor unions, twenty-four from farmers' associations, fourteen from university professors, five from youth movements and the balance unclassified.

FROM B.C. 230 LETTERS

By district, he said, 400 were from Ontario, seventy-three from the maritime provinces, 264 from Quebec, 260

Wants to Declare Views

from the three prairie provinces, 220 from British Columbia and a few from the Peace River country.

WANTS TO DECLARE VIEWS

With one exception, these communications were uniform in one respect, the former minister stated. "In the great bulk of them they urge me to announce my views as leader of the reform movement." These requests, he said, were "invariably accompanied with the observation they wanted something to vote for that would assert their views."

To all these letters he had answered up to a few weeks ago, Mr. Stevens said, that he was not interested in the formation of a new party or the leadership of any.

He replied further that he was interested in one thing and that was to secure legislation of a reform character that was adequate and advanced and had behind it the intent of vigorous administration. On the other hand, if the legislation was inadequate he took the position his course would have to be determined.

LEGISLATION "INADEQUATE"

"When the legislation was brought down this session I realized it was inadequate," the former minister replied to further questioning. The introduction of part of it, notably by the Minister of Justice and the Secretary of State, indicated a sharp cleavage in the cabinet as to the merit of it and lack of desire to enforce it.

WITHDRAWAL OF SUPPORT

"It was these things that led me to first question the sincerity of the government and withhold my support from it, but not until yesterday did I determine to respond to the pressure of the thousands of Canadians for a new party," said Mr. Stevens. "In the meantime these three gentlemen had been in touch with large and representative bodies throughout the country, a meeting was held in Hamilton and a formal invitation to take over the leadership of a new party was presented to me. After a long conference with these three gentlemen I decided to make an announcement of acceptance."

"If a Conservative candidate runs in a riding as a Stevens supporter would your party have a candidate opposing him?" the former minister was asked.

"We would welcome men of standing and influence in public affairs providing they are 100 per cent behind us," was the reply.

FUNDS FROM FRIENDS

"Where will your party get its campaign funds—for traveling, publicity and the other essentials?" Mr. Stevens was asked.

"We will depend on the generosity of a vast army of friends that we know exist in Canada," he replied. "We are sure 'we can secure an army of volunteer workers who, I believe, are more valuable than paid ward-healers'."

The new party had in mind the "forgotten men," who might be divided into five classes—workers, agriculturists, merchants, the "white collar class" and small manufacturers as against the great corporations, the former minister said.

OLD PARTIES

"I am not going out to attack the old parties," he replied. "The old parties had their 'chosen paths' but lacked a proper approach to national affairs, he said. In the debates in the Commons on the recent Regina unemployed riot "we had an illustration of the failure of the old parties. Neither of the major political parties had touched on 'the cause of the disturbance,' the former minister said.

Mr. Stevens was questioned as to what groups might support his new party.

FINDS DEEP INTEREST

"In the last few years there has sprung up in Canada a large number of groups evidencing a deep interest in the fundamental causes of conditions of economic disturbance," he said. "A great many of these groups are willing to join us and submerge their special views."

Asked if the new party hoped to obtain a balance of power in the next Parliament or secure the largest following, he answered: "I hope, and from correspondence I have received, I believe, a very large body of public opinion will support us."

"Will your health permit going through a vigorous campaign across the country?" Mr. Stevens was questioned.

He felt he "could not desert" the expression of views given in the letters he had received of a "pathetic character" and he was amazed and appalled at the "forbearance the people have displayed."

TEXT OF PETITION

The petition presented to the former minister signed by Warren Cook, Thomas D. Lison and Thomas V. Bell as "provisional executive," asking him to accept leadership of a new party read:

"A meeting of your supporters was held Friday, July 5, in Hamilton, at which were gathered representatives from many provinces in Canada, and at which were presented letters and telegrams from others."

"We, the provisional executive, were instructed by this gathering, acting on behalf of many thousands of Canadian citizens in every walk of life, to wait upon you, sir, to beg you to accept leadership of a new party to govern Canada."

"We sincerely believe, sir, that Providence has loaned you to Canada for this time and task, and we know of no other man in Canada who now enjoys and can hold the confidence of the majority of Canadian citizens as you do and shall, sir."

"We, the gentlemen of the provisional executive, have no personal ambitions politically. It is our conscientious desire to serve our country and humanity at large that has motivated us in forming this party."

WELFARE OF ALL

"We, therefore, humbly beseech you, if for no other reason—and there are many—than the future welfare of our sons and daughters, that you do this day accept the leadership of this, our party."

"May God grant you health and sustain your vision and power to fearlessly carry through the arduous task of establishing Canada in London, July 8.—Sir George Alexander Touche, seventy-four, head of the firm of George A. Touche and Company, accountants, with offices in Toronto and Montreal, died yesterday.

VETERINARY SERVICES

After these solicitations, the convention got down to business and heard two papers delivered by Dr. V. C. Paulham of Olympia, Washington, and Dr. E. A. Bruce of the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology at Banishment.

Dr. Paulham declared "we have not recovered from the first blush of pride" in discussing the veterinary profession in his paper "Veterinary Services." Their profession, he contributed as much to human happiness as any other, but it was difficult for any business to survive on emergency cases only. He felt that too many people regarded them as a luxury rather than a necessity. Just as it had taken a long time for Darwin's theory of natural selection to be accepted, so the veterinary surgeon had had a long battle for public acknowledgment.

Dr. Bruce pointed out the importance of the Mount Hope index for selecting sties in livestock. He held of experiments that had been conducted at various experimental stations throughout the world, and the hereditary basis in the index.

For the first time, the Mount Hope index had been applied on a wide scale in British Columbia, the speaker said. The dairy branch of the Department of Agriculture was able to incorporate it in the list of dairy sties on account of the long milk records which had been kept in the province.

This afternoon the convention reviewed and heard Dr. F. MacKintosh deliver a paper on the "Lamentation of Horses."

It is expected that Dr. F. W. M. Smith, inspector in charge, meet inspection division of the Dominion Government, Vancouver, will speak of "Canada Approved Meats—A Contribution to Public Health."

Other speakers of the afternoon were Dr. Leonard Newman of Fullerton, Wash., and Dr. E. E. Chase, city veterinarian, Portland, Ore.

LOG SCALE IS SLIPPING FAST

Orders From Foreign Markets Falling Off; Cut Will Be Small in July

Vancouver, B.C., July 8.—The output of British Columbia's timber industry decreased sharply in the last week, following the closing of most of the larger logging camps. The log scale for the week was 39,072,000 feet as against 50,788,000 feet in the previous week. As the current scale includes many logs cut before the camps closed, the total output for the next few weeks will reach a still lower figure.

The extent of the shut-down will depend on the forest fire hazard and the state of foreign markets which,
at the moment, are extremely depressed. The decline in purchases from Japan, China and Australia, together with reduced British buying here, have had an extremely depressing effect on the entire timber industry of the province.

These factors, loggers report, have caused a further weakening of the fir market, on which the lumber industry depends to a great extent for its sales.

DEATHS DURING STORMS EIGHT

Property Losses in New York State Put at Nearly $2,000,000

Associated Press
Albany, N.Y., July 8.—Eight were known dead and damage of nearly $2,000,000 was estimated to-day in the wake of a violent rain and electrical storm in central and eastern
New York state during the week-end.
Six persons were drowned near Ithaca, in southern New York, one man was struck by lightning at Fitcher and another died of exertion after an attempt to save some of his possessions from a burning summer cottage near Ithaca.

Highway and railway traffic was hampered seriously, and several towns lost some of their utility services.
Communications were also widely affected.

SOON TO NAME WHEAT BOARD

Federal Government Expected to Complete Organization in Few Weeks

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 7.—Formation of the Canada Wheat Board, authorized in an act which was given royal assent when Parliament prorogued Friday, will probably take some weeks.
In the meantime the Canadian Cooperative Wheat Producers Limited, who hold some 226,000,000 bushels of wheat on government account, will continue Canadian carry-over, and will liquidate these stocks as and when possible.

John I. McFarland, head of the company and agent for the government in market-stabilizing efforts which resulted in this wheat being held on government account, will be the chairman of the board, it is understood, providing his health permits.

Some months ago Mr. McFarland suffered a breakdown and is only recently out of hospital.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE
The act contemplates the creation of a board of three, and an advisory committee of not more than seven, with the majority representative of the producers, to be paid only for actual services rendered from time to time.

Existing selling agencies will continue to operate after the board is appointed, but the board will undertake to buy all wheat which the regular trade cannot or will not absorb at a fixed minimum price. The board may buy only from the producers and in addition to the minimum price will issue share certificates.

HARRY ROGERS, WINNIPEG, DIES

Canadian Press
Goderich, Ont., July 8.—Harry Rogers, prominent vessel broker and member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, died in the Alexandra Hospital here Saturday night from injuries received eight hours out of Goderich when he accidentally fell in the bathroom of the freighter Oakton, on which he was a passenger.

Winnipeg, July 8.—The death of Harry Rogers at Goderich yesterday, removed one of the best-known figures in Canada's grain trade circles. He was a member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange for many years.
He was perhaps better known in shipping circles. For many years he was agent for the Matthews Steamship Company of Toronto, to which are chartered some of the largest steamers to sail on the Great Lakes.
Mr. Rogers left here on a brief vacation.

FOUR KILLED IN TRAIN-AUTO CRASH

Canadian Press
Valleyfield, Que., July 8.—Four persons were killed and another seriously injured Saturday evening when a Canadian National train crashed into an automobile at a level crossing here. A seven-months-old baby was also slightly hurt.
The killed were: Domina Lemieux,
thirty-four, Valleyfield; Mrs. Domina Lemieux, thirty-three; Paul Lemieux, twelve; Suzanne Lemieux, five.
The injured: Donat Lemieux, forty-five, of St. Etienne de Beauharnois, Que.; Jean Guy Lemieux, seven months, suffering from a fracture of the right leg.
Those killed were all members of the same family and Donat Lemieux was a brother of the man killed. The baby is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Domina Lemieux.
The accident occurred at a level crossing between Coteau and Cantic, near here. According to witnesses, Lemieux stopped at the crossing, but started across the tracks when he failed to notice the approaching train. The engine struck the rear end of the car, hurling it into the ditch several feet away.

NEW PARTY IN UNITED STATES

American Commonwealth Political Federation Enters the Field

Associated Press
Chicago, July 8.—The American Commonwealth Political Federation today was charged with the task of completing the structure of a "third party" dedicated to a fight for a "new economic order" on the national political battlefield.
Organized Saturday at the closing session of a two-day conference of self-proclaimed "Liberals," the federation adopted a thirteen-point "platform" stressing "production for use,"
as opposed to production for profit.
It demanded also a sharing of the national wealth.
Representative Thomas R. Amle, Wisconsin Progressive, named chairman of the federation at the meeting, declared to-day there was strong demand "between the Alleghenies and the Rockies" for a "new social order."

YEARLY INCOME OF $2,500
Omaha, Neb., July 8.—An annual income of $2,500 for every United States family will be demanded in the platform of the National Farmer-Labor Party, Roy M. Harrop, its chairman, predicts.
The convention of the party opened here to-day.
"All present redistribution of wealth programmes don't go far enough," said Harrop. "The plan which will be proposed at this convention will make money the servant and not the master of mankind."
"We propose to raise the American standard of living from its present condition of poverty to a point where every American family will be guaranteed a return of at least $2,500 a year."

Revenue. The order is effective from July 5.

Baron Amptill Passes Away

Distinguished Soldier Dies in London; Acting Viceroy of India in 1904

London, July 8.—The Second Baron Amptill (Arthur Oliver Villiers Russell), died yesterday, aged sixty-six.
He was a distinguished soldier and statesman.
His eldest son, Hon. John Hugo
Russell, succeeds to the title.
Lady Amptill, the widow, is a lady-in-waiting to the Queen.
In 1904 Lord Amptill was Acting

1906 Governor of Madras. Previously he had been private secretary to Rt.
Hon. Joseph Chamberlain.
He served with distinction in the Great War.

Pension Strikers To Stay in Camp

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, July 8.—Disappointed when Parliament prorogued without adjusting pension differences, members of the Canadian War Disability to-day to remain in camp until "inequalities in relief" have been dealt with. Hope was expressed action would be taken by the Governor-in-

No Hitler Funds For Social Credit

Aberhart Also Says His Alberta Party Members Will Not Wear Green Shirts

Canadian Press
Calgary, July 8.—Adolf Hitler plays no part in the plans of William Aberhart, leader of the Alberta Social Credit League.

Speaking to a meeting here yesterday at which representatives were present from twenty-two provincial constituencies, Mr. Aberhart said he had heard a report he was receiving money from Hitler and that Germany would be paid back with goods produced in Alberta.

"I don't know Hitler," the Calgary High School principal stated, "and wouldn't have anything to do with him if I did know him."

He also said Social Credit followers would not wear green shirts.
He reiterated the Social Credit system could be operated easily in Alberta, adding the logical thing was to begin in a province and it would then spread rapidly across Canada.

Fascists Plan Move In France

Col. de la Roque, Leader, Says He May Soon Mobilize Followers

Canadian Press from Havas

Tourcoing, France, July 8.—Threatening to mobilize his Fascist forces to fight revolution in France, Col.
Francois de la Roque, leader of the Croix de Feu (Cross of Fire) in a militant speech here yesterday said:
"To-morrow or day after to-morrow, or in a fortnight, I may give you a mobilization order against revolution."

Considerable significance was attached to this remark since on July 14, Bastille Day, leftist elements in France have planned a monster demonstration against war and fascism.
Col. de la Roque promised that "parliamentarism will be shelved for a while when the Croix de Feu takes power and a strong central, united and authoritative government would replace it."

"We will impose silence, too," he added, "on the high institutions who play a double dealing game in carrying on an illusory alliance with the Soviets and rapprochement with Germany. When we take power there will be fewer ministries, and fewer unemployed."

Paris, July 8 (Associated Press).—
The decision of the powerful veterans' organization permitting none but the tri-color of France to fly on July 14 to-day increased the nation's fears that Bastille Day will be troublous.

The executive committee of the National Union of Combatants, with almost 1,000,000 members, issued this order to veterans:

"If you see any flag other than the national flag flying on France's national holiday, tear it down."

Peacock in Second Victory Over Owens

Crystal Beach, Ont., July 8.—Eulace Peacock, Temple U. negro star who started the track world with a double victory over Jesse Owens, Thursday, demonstrated Saturday it was no fluke when he flashed home in front of the Ohio State negro in the 100-metre dash, feature of the Buffalo, N.Y., Police Club games, in a driving finish.

Peacock allowed Owens to set the pace for most of the distance and then flashed to the front in the final twenty-five yards, crossing the finish line going away with a burst of speed.
The Temple sophomore's time was 10.5 seconds, three-tenths of a second slower than the time he set Thursday at Lincoln, Neb., in defeating Owens.

By I. S. Klein

IN the centre of a circle from which twelve avenues radiate stands the world's largest and best-known memorial to military victories—the Arch of Triumph in Paris. This immense structure was started by Napoleon in 1806, to commemorate his victory at Austerlitz, was completed thirty years later.

To-day, under a plaque in the

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

By ALEX FRINGLE
Canadian Press Financial Writer
Toronto, July 8.—Although trading is gradually slowing down in traditional summer manner on the Canadian industrial and mining share markets, sentiment appears still to favor the up side and prices are suffering no material shrinkage. The light volume of offerings indicate holders of stocks are inclined to sit tight and let the heat, the holiday spirit and the bears do their worst.
Aggregate turnover on the Toronto Industrial section is now running about 80,000 shares and the mining section about 1,600,000 shares weekly compared with an average of 137,000 and 3,500,000 respectively in the first six months of this year.

The industrial index had a minor gain for the week. Profit-taking on the spring rise in the oil shares appeared to have run its course and in these issues the buying was better than the selling in the latest period.
Imperial recovered to $2, showing a net gain of 37 cents, while British American at $18.75 was up 12 cents and International Petroleum at $35.50 was up 62 cents.

In the last few sessions the distillery stocks have been claiming more attention, particularly Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, in which a net gain of $1 was registered for the week.
Walkers common advanced $1.50 and Canadian Industrial Alcohol recorded no worth-while change. The liquor companies will soon be reporting on the year's business. Seagrams' fiscal year ending with July and in the meantime much bullish forecasting is heard on the street about earnings.
Aside from the oils and the liquors,
the industrial list lacked features.
International Nickel dropped less than $1 and Consolidated Smelters slipped back $3.

Adjustment of the price level of the gold shares was narrowly upward in the period, while miscellaneous mines weakened less than a half point. In the absence of any volume of investment buying in the golds, traders stirred up a little business by forcing short covering in a few issues including Pickle Crow, McWaters and Mining Corporation. The covering over, Pickle Crow subsided to around the $2.30 mark again but Mining Corporation closed yesterday at $1.50, its high mark for recent months.
Teck Hughes advanced 11 cents in the week and Lake Shore $1.85. Over the rest of the mining board minor losses and gains broke about even.

WEEKLY GRAIN REVIEW

Winnipeg, July 8.—Fogged prices—lowest levels since November 1, 1934—greeted traders when they entered the pit on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Saturday.

Touching of minimum pegged levels came Friday when the market dropped ¼ to ½ cents under the influence of Chicago bearishness. Wheat, both July and August options, dropped to 80 cents a bushel, a decline of 2½ to 3½ cents for the week.

Friday's decline was the most severe of the week and the influence of Chicago played the major part. There, bearishness developed over fears the Canadian wheat surplus would be dumped on the market as a result of the Canadian grain board bill which passed third reading in the Senate.

This occurred despite denial by Premier R. B. Bennett that the Canadian surplus would not be sold at bargain prices. Export demand, probably the greatest market influence at the present time, remained practically dormant.

The Liverpool market declined on Thursday and increased bearish pessimism. The downturn was the direct result of fears the Canadian Government's stabilization policy would be dropped. All of these developments helped in the downturn of Canadian grain quotations.

All coarse grains shared in the late downward movement. Oats were off 1½ cents to five cents lower; barley was down 3½ cents to 6½ cents;
flax was 1½ cents higher to ½ cent lower, and rye was 6½ to 8½ lower.

OPEN SCHOOL FOR TEACHERS

John Kyle Welcomed Student Body to Summer School To-day

Teachers turned students, numbering well over 200, to-day assembled in the auditorium of Victoria High School for the official opening of the department of education's annual summer school. John Kyle, director, formally welcomed the teachers whose ranks are expected to be swelled to approximately 300 by late registration during the next few days.

In the absence of Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, Mr. Kyle addressed the student body. He explained the mechanics of the summer school and spoke of the various specialists who had been engaged to impart further knowledge to the teachers on the various subjects they would study.

Following the official ceremony the teacher-students filed to their various classrooms for registration and preliminary work in their courses.

As usual the primary grade class is again the most popular. Many other studies have claimed considerable interest.

In addition to the studies, the students will participate in a particularly extra-mural programme of athletics, social events and entertainments. Details of these features were sketched to the general assembly this morning.

The school will continue until August 8.

Ottawa. Personally I do not see how there could be any possible objection to the plans."

NOT REJECTED

"But suppose the plans are rejected?" he was asked.

"That question has not arisen," he replied. "It would be foolish to say anything about it now. It would only start a lot of talk."

The Premier repeated a vigorous defence of his New Westminster bridge policy.

"The bridge is an election pledge," he said. "We are not building it to be stubborn or antagonistic. But because a bridge is needed. It is the opposition to it that is cursed and stubborn."

TRAINS CRASH; TWELVE HURT

Regina. Annie Hutuk, Floral Sask. passenger; Mrs. Jeffery, Port Arthur, Ont. passenger; H. Roper, Wilkie, Sask. passenger; and Miss Jennie McCullum, passenger, Saskatoon.

All were given first aid at the scene of the crash.

ARE INVESTIGATING

Railway officials to-day were investigating the cause of the collision. The line, blocked for about nine hours, was open for traffic about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Early yesterday morning extra train No. 79, consisting solely of an engine and a caboose, went north from Regina to make repairs to telegraph lines, believed to have been broken by a severe electric storm during the night.

ABOARD CURVE

The train stopped north of Craven to check up on broken wires about 6:18 a.m. From the north was heard a whistle and then came speeding around a curve in the track, which skirted one of the valley hills, train 304, night passenger from Saskatoon. The passenger train rumbled into the standing work train. Engineer Evans and Fireman Matheson were caught in the bucking cab of the passenger engine. Conductor and passengers in the baggage car and four coaches on the train were given a severe jolting.

Much Interest In Stevens Move

Multitude of Federal Candidates Seen as New Party Enters Field

Observers here to-day saw a political hodge-podge developing for the federal election fight as Hon. H. H. Stevens, former Minister of Trade and Commerce, launched his new party, the fourth in the field not including the Independents and other minor groups.

The forerunners of a very much similar situation to the one which occurred in British Columbia on the occasion of the last provincial campaign when the Conservative Party disintegrated and there were a multitude of political shades thrown in the field, and the Liberals emerged with a clear-cut victory.

With the Liberal and C.C.F. parties already lined up for the battle in British Columbia, their nominations practically complete, the Stevens move threatened to throw the entire Conservative position into a turmoil.

In British Columbia, of course, Mr. Stevens has a substantial following in Conservative ranks. Much interest centres now on whether many of those who had intended to follow Mr. Bennett will switch their allegiance to Mr. Stevens.

So far the Conservatives have nominated only three candidates, in Vancouver Centre, Cariboo and Kamloops. The Liberals have nominated standard-bearers chosen. Vancouver-Burrard and Kootenay East are the open seats as they are not likely to oppose A. W. Neil, Comox-Alberni Independent.

With the acceptance of Prof. King Gordon of the Victoria nomination, the C.C.F. slate of sixteen candidates was completed.

Should the Stevens party and the old-line Conservatives proceed with nomination plans, it will mean at least four candidates for every seat, much reminiscent of the provincial situation in 1933 when Victoria alone had twenty-nine aspirants for its four seats in the provincial House.

Stevens' candidates, according to some opinion, will draw heavily from the radical vote which would have gone C.C.F. At the same time, they are likely to deliver a smashing blow to the Conservatives, especially in this province where Mr. Stevens has a big personal following.

RELIEF CHANGE IN U.S. IS SLOW

Associated Press

Washington, July 8.—Acknowledging little progress had been made in actually transferring "unemployables" from federal relief to the care of the states, relief officials to-day said about 4,000,000 such persons still were on the federal rolls.

This number, about one-fifth of the persons depending in whole or in part on federal relief activities for support, is roughly the same as it was last December.

Rouchefoucauld Beaten By Men

French Aristocrat and Wife Injured By Two Jobless in Paris

Canadian Press from Havas Paris, July 8.—Count and Countess de la Rouchefoucauld, descendants of one of France's aristocratic families, were victims of a brutal assault to-day, when two men attacked them in their residence, on the Rue Henri Rochefort and inflicted severe injuries on both of them.

The attackers, said to have been two unemployed men given work by the Count, fled when his shouts attracted neighbors. Police captured one of them after a chase over the roof tops.

The Rouchefoucauld family traces its ancestry back to the eleventh century. The present count is descended from that Duke de la Rouchefoucauld whose house was re-established in France in 1814, after the French Revolution.

Mighty Power and Stamina of Studebaker Champions Saves Money for Fleet Owners

Noticeable on the streets of Victoria this week are smart new Studebaker Champion Trucks supplied to David Spencer Ltd. The entire delivery fleet of this popular Department Store has now been replaced with these modern vehicles. But while the public admires the smart lines of the Studebaker, operators appreciate the saving which only Studebaker offers. Trucks of superb style and stamina, yet their cost is well within the low-priced field. Not only that, Studebakers are of heavier construction than any other truck of competitive price, and they are equipped with the new Duo-Servo Hydraulic Brakes, essential for straight line stopping and complete safety. With Duo-Servo Hydraulic Brakes the usual brake rods and cross members of old style brakes are entirely eliminated and a minimum of service attention is required. We congratulate David Spencer Limited upon their choice of Studebaker as a solution of delivery problems for years to come.

FOR SALE: ENTIRE FLEET OF TRUCKS FORMERLY USED BY DAVID SPENCER LTD.
To the person who contemplates buying a Truck, this disposal offers an opportunity which may not occur again for many years. We invite your inspection, and assure you the values are remarkable.

Also pictured above is the magnificent C. & C. Taxi fleet of Victoria. "Mike" and "Babe" Caldwell, with a fleet of 4 seven-passenger and 6 five-passenger Studebaker Champions, operate a service second to none in British Columbia. The C. & C. 32-passenger Sightseeing Bus and modern Ambulance are also Studebaker Champions. Fire Chief Munro is also to be congratulated upon his choice of Studebaker. The latest addition to the equipment of the Victoria Fire Department is the 4-ton Studebaker chassis for the Victoria West hose and chemical wagon pictured above. Studebaker specifications were better than those of any competitor, even at $1500 more. Wherever you go you will see Studebaker forging ahead. The Victoria Police Department's patrol wagon and prowler car are both Studebaker Champions. On the Langford Stage route Arthur Wale has operated Studebaker cars for many years. Judge for yourself whether this route calls for extraordinary strength and stamina... 70,000 miles in a single year. The two Studebakers now in service have traveled 300,000 and 400,000 miles, respectively, both with a remarkably low record for cost of upkeep.

Summer Concert Series Opened

The 16th Canadian Scottish Band, under Bandmaster James M. Miller, on Saturday evening opened the summer series of band concerts in the new bandstand at The Causeway. The performance was received by a large crowd which lined Belleville Street from the dock to Government Street.

The programme included groups of lively numbers, warmly appreciated by the crowd, and solo selections by Bandman James Mossop, cornetist.

First bale of cotton exported from the United States to Europe was shipped from Charleston, S.C., in 1784.

PARK CONCERT WELL RECEIVED

Unsettled weather yesterday failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the large crowd which regularly attends the Sunday band concerts in Beacon Hill Park, and a well-balanced programme presented by William F. Tickle and a twenty-six-piece orchestra was accorded a warm reception.

Mr. Tickle opened the concert with the spirited march, "The London Scottish," by Naines. Among the most popular selections which received prolonged applause were: "Echoes from Metropolitan Opera," "Gems from Tchaikowsky," a medley of southern tunes, and "Chinese Temple Garden."

CAR LOADINGS

Ottawa, July 8 (Canadian Press)—Car loadings during the week ended June 29 amounted to 45,436 cars as against 46,645 for the corresponding week last year, and 49,580 for the previous week, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported to-day. The index stood at 71.47 for the week ended June 29 compared with 68.90 the preceding week.

For the half year total loadings were 1,113,985 cars, or 19,171 above the total of 1,094,814 for 1934. Grain loading was light, being down by 20,856 cars, or 15 per cent, coal down by 3,203 cars, or 8 per cent.

Pirates of Venus

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1935

"But I still do not understand why you choose to live in trees, far above the ground," I said.

"For years the Thorists hunted us down to kill us," he explained, "and we were forced to live in hidden inaccessible places; this type of city was the solution of our problem. The Thorists still hunt us; and there are still occasional raids, but now they are for a very different purpose. Instead of wishing to kill us, they now wish to capture as many of us as they can."

"Having killed or driven away the brains of the nation, their civilization has deteriorated, disease is making frightful inroads upon them which they are unable to check, old age has appeared, and is taking its toll; so they seek to capture the brains and skill and the knowledge which they have been unable to produce and which we alone possess."

"Old age is repulsive! What do you mean?" I asked.

"Have you not noticed that there are no signs of old age among us?" he inquired.

"Yes, of course," I replied, "not any children. I have often meant to ask you for an explanation."

"These are not natural phenomena," he assured me, "they are the crowning achievements of medical science. A thousand years ago the serum of longevity was perfected. It is injected every two years and not only provides immunity from all diseases but insures the complete restoration of all wasted tissue."

"But even in good there is evil. As none grew old and none died, except those who met violent death, we were faced with the grave dangers of overpopulation. To combat this, birth control became obligatory. Children are permitted now only in sufficient numbers to replace actual losses in population. If a member of a house is killed, a woman of that house is permitted to bear a child, if she can; but after generations of childlessness, the population is constantly decreasing, number of women who are capable of bearing children. This situation we have met by anticipating it."

"Statistics compiled over a period of a thousand years indicate the average death rate expectancy per thousand people; they have also demonstrated that only 50 per cent of our women are capable of bearing children; therefore, 50 per cent of the required children are permitted yearly to those who wish them, in order in which their applications are filed."

"I have not seen a child since I arrived in Amtor," I told him.

"There are children here," he replied, "but, of course, not many."

"And no old people," I mused.

"Could you administer that serum to me, Danus?"

He smiled. "With Minter's permission, which I imagine will not be difficult to obtain. Come," he added, "I'll take some blood tests now to determine the type and attenuation of serum best adapted to your requirements." He motioned me into his laboratory.

When he had completed the tests, which he accomplished with ease and rapidity, he was shocked by the variety and nature of malignant bacteria he revealed.

"You are a menace to the continued existence of human life on Amtor," he exclaimed with a laugh.

CHAPTER XIII

"I am considered a very healthy man in my own world," I assured Danus.

"How old are you?" he asked.

"Twenty-seven."

"You would not be so healthy 200 years from now if all those bacteria were permitted to have their way with you."

"How old might I live to be if they were eradicated?" I asked.

"He shrugged. "We do not know. The serum was perfected 1,000 years ago. They are people among us to-day who were of the first to receive injections. I am 500 years old; Minter is 700. We believe that, barring accidents, we shall live forever; but, of course, we do not know."

"Theoretically, we should," he said, "and I went out on the veranda to take my exercise, of which I have found that I require a great deal, having always been athletically inclined. Swimming, boxing, and wrestling had attracted me since I had returned to America with my mother when I was eleven, and I became interested in fencing while I was traveling in Europe after she died. During my college days I was amateur middleweight boxer of California, and I captured several medals for distance swimming; so the informed intelligence of the past two months had galvanized me considerably. Toward the end of my college days I had grown into the heavyweight class, but that had been due to an increase of healthy bone and sinew; now I was at least twenty pounds heavier and at least twenty pounds was all fat."

"On my 100 feet of veranda I did the best I could to reduce. I ran miles, I shadow boxed, I skipped rope, and I spent hours with the old seven-ton setting-up exercise of drill regulations. To-day I was shadow boxing near the right end of my veranda when I suddenly discovered the girl in the garden observing me as our eyes met I halted in my tracks and smiled at her. A frightened look came into her eyes, and she turned and fled. I wondered why."

"Fused, I walked slowly back to my apartment, my eyes were forgotten. This time I had seen the girl's full face, looked her squarely in the eyes, and I had been absolutely dumfounded by her beauty. Every man and woman I had seen since I had come to Venus had been beautiful; I had come to expect that. But I had not expected to see in this or any other world such indescribable perfection of coloring and features, combined with character and intelligence, as that which I had just seen in the garden beyond my little fence. But why had she run away when I smiled?"

"Possibly she had run away merely because she had been discovered watching me for, after all, human nature is about the same everywhere. Even 20,000 miles from earth there are human beings like ourselves and a girl, with quite human curiosity, who runs away when she is discovered. I wondered if she resembled earthly girls in other respects, but she seemed too beautiful to be just like anything on earth or in heaven. Was she young or old? Suppose she were 700 years old."

"I went to my apartment and prepared to bathe and change my pajamas; I had long since adopted the apparel of Amtor. As I glanced in a mirror that hangs in my bathroom I suddenly understood why the girl may have looked frightened and run away—my beard! It was nearly a month old now and might easily have frightened anyone who had never before seen a beard."

When Danus returned I asked him what I could do about it. He stepped into another room and returned with a bottle of shave.

"Rub this into the roots of the hair on your face," he directed, "but be careful not to get it on your eyes, nose, mouth, or the hair on your head. Leave it there a minute and then wash your face."

I stepped into my bathroom and opened the jar; its contents looked like vaseline and smelled like the devil, but I rubbed it into the roots of my beard as Danus had directed. When I washed my face a moment later my beard came off, leaving my face smooth and hairless. I hurried back to the room where I had left Danus.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MRS. ELDRED TELLS HOW TO PREPARE FORMULA ON A TRIP

The difficulties of managing food for a small baby, for a journey of any length, is discouraging to travel. The important item is always the baby's good health, and if this is jeopardized in any way by change of climate, water or milk, the mother's inclination is to abandon the vacation and stay at home.

Mrs. S. A. R. writes: "My baby boy weighs over fifteen pounds and is only four and one-half months old, having weighed ten pounds at birth. He gets twelve ounces of evaporated milk, twenty of water and three tablespoons of corn syrup, with one egg daily put right with the formula."

"He has been good but this last week has not wanted to eat and sometimes after feeding he vomited his food. Next month I am taking him on a vacation. Here is the problem. Where we are going I will have to use well water to mix his milk. Will this be all right if I boil the water? If I carry baby's milk in the can will it spoil? Any advice you can give me on traveling with baby will be appreciated."

MILK IN CANS

Our leaflet called "Necessities For a Comfortable Journey" should prove helpful to you at this time. It may be had by sending with your request for it a self addressed and stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

The milk should be carried in small cans and the boiled water, mixed with enough syrup for the twenty-four hour feeding, in a thermos jug. Then at feeding time the two may be mixed together in the right proportions for that feeding. The formula does not need heating since the cans will naturally not be on ice. After opening any can of milk it should be treated with the same precautions against spoiling as fresh milk. One four ounce can would suffice for one feeding.

OMIT THE EGG

Your present formula is quite weak for so large a baby and the role of egg has been low. I would try fifteen ounces of evaporated milk, one and one-half ounces syrup and enough boiled water to make five eight ounce feedings.

Omit the egg yolk to be certain it is causing no disturbance. Start it later, fed separately from the formula, divide the cod liver oil down into four even parts and give one after each of the four daytime feedings. Heat, or the influence of too much fat, or the egg yolk are probably responsible for the present reactions.

Boiled water used both to drink and to dilute the formula.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

CUTTING A MELON PAYS DIVIDEND IN APPETITES

By MARY E. DAGUE

For that summer slump in the family appetite, try fruit. Cantaloupes, for instance, either by itself or in fruit cup; watermelon balls, pink and frosty; pineapple, dead-ripe, with lime juice and mint. Peaches and bananas combine well, with a little lemon juice sprinkled over. A melon filled with any kind of berries and chilled is pretty to look at and luscious to eat. Oranges with a little pineapple juice poured over and minced mint make another cool appeal to the palate.

One of our own favorite suppers for a hot July day is watermelon cocktail followed by hot baked bean sandwiches, carrot straws and cucumber sticks with olives and radishes on a relish tray finished off with gingerbread and whipped cream.

WATERMELON COCKTAIL

Prepare balls of chilled watermelon and put in stemmed sherbet glasses. Pour chilled ginger ale over, and serve at once.

MELON MACEDONINE

Choose small cantaloupes and cut in halves, allowing one-half for each person to be served. Scoop out pulp in small cutters. Combine with watermelon balls and honeydew melon balls. Return to cantaloupes shells and pour over berry to cover. Serve on a bed of chopped ice. Chill melons thoroughly before cutting.

This is suitable to serve at a company dinner.

WATERMELON APPETIZER

Prepare balls of watermelon and arrange on small glass plates. Garnish with sprigs of mint and put a green maraschino cherry in the centre of the melon balls. Pour over some of the juice from the cherries and serve.

HOT BAKED BEAN SANDWICHES

Slice Boston brown bread very thin and spread with creamed butter. Heat baked beans. Put a slice of bread on each plate and cover with a thin layer of tomato catsup or chili sauce. Add a thick layer of baked beans and cover with a slice of buttered bread. Add crisp leaves of curly endive sprinkled with French dressing and put slices of hot crisp broiled bacon on the endive. Cover with a last slice of buttered bread and serve. Sometimes I steam the bread just long enough to make it very hot before making the sandwiches.

MELON CUP

Prepare balls of cantaloupe and watermelon and arrange in low sherbet glasses. Pour over grenadine syrup and sprinkle with blackberries. Serve very cold.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Fresh apricots, cereal, cream, blueberry pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Main dish macaroni salad, rye bread and butter sandwiches, ginger ale cooler.

Dinner: Watermelon cocktail, hot baked bean sandwich, relish tray of cucumber sticks, carrot straws, olives and radishes, gingerbread and whipped cream, milk, coffee.

MRS. G. F. VANDERBILT Dies in New York

New York, July 8.—Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt, noted as a sports-woman, art patron and philanthropist by virtue of her father's silver fortune, her husband's social position and her own vigorous personality, died at her town house yesterday after a nine-week illness.

The only clue to her age was a report that she was twenty-one when she and William K. Vanderbilt were married in a brilliant setting at Newport on April 4, 1890. That would make her fifty-seven years old.

The Royal Canadians return to tour the CBS fold, the network which first brought them into the public eye and ear seven years ago. Lombardo loyalty is proverbial—the personnel of the orchestra has remained almost intact since its origin in London, Ontario.

LOVES TO EAT THIS CEREAL, IT CHECKED HER CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helped Miss Kesterke

We quote from her letter: "Three years ago, I became constipated. I tried many laxatives. But as soon as I got used to each kind, I began to get the same trouble."

"Last summer I was on my vacation. They served Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I just loved it. I eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every morning, and ever since I have not had to take any more laxatives."—Miss Margaret Kesterke. Address on request.

*Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle. It resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables, so it is often more effective.

Isn't this food safer than risking patent medicines? Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. If seriously constipated, use with each meal. See your doctor, if you do not get relief.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Relief Camps Uneconomic Claim Business Women

Mrs. M. M. Hall of Victoria Speaks Against System at Convention in Calgary

Calgary, July 8.—Dominion Government relief camps for single unemployed men were condemned as "uneconomic, illogical and inhumane," by Mrs. Margaret Merrick Hall of Victoria at the fifth annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which concluded here Saturday.

Speaking at the Saturday session during which a heavy agenda was cleared, Mrs. Hall questioned how any intelligent business woman could regard "with anything but disapproval" relief camp segregations under the present system of camps for unemployed men and youths.

NEW OFFICERS

Miss Mary Mount of Hamilton was elected president to succeed Miss A. Josephine Dauphinee of Vancouver. Provincial vice-presidents chosen were: Quebec, Miss S. E. Ervin, Montreal; Ontario, Miss Laura Hyatt, Niagara Falls; Manitoba, Miss Mary Gemmill, Brandon; Saskatchewan, Dr. Janet Henderson, Regina; Alberta, Miss Marian Fawdry, Calgary. The British Columbia vice-president will be named later.

More than 100 delegates made a motor trip Saturday to Banff and Lake Louise. "Our hands joined in friendship, our minds in knowledge and our hearts in love, we must go on working through enlightened public conscience for the progress of brighter days ahead," said Miss Dauphinee, retiring president, in her final message. She described the federation as a sisterhood dedicated to the interests of women and seeking their advancement.

MUST CHAIN DOGS OF WAR

"Our greatest task lies in keeping chained the dogs of war," stated Mrs. F. C. Casselman of Edmonton, guest speaker at the Saturday banquet. "We must know how much of taxation goes into the war budget and with sincerity and intelligence and fair and open minds, seek to find a way out."

"Can we combine marriage and a career?" Mrs. Casselman asked. "If we could, it would be a great thing for the nation, but with it we must couple a deeper love of home and motherhood and a broader view of national affairs." "Women are enfranchised, but they are not yet emancipated," Mrs. Nellie L. McClung, Victoria, told delegates in a message read at the convention. "There are rivers still to cross and the deepest, widest and muddest is prejudice—not of others, but ourselves."

"If women are really sure of each other, we should have more women representatives in provincial and federal houses, and the new day, when we should be no longer rivals, but partners, would speedily come."

VOTERS' LIST

Delegates voted in favor of a resolution protecting discriminations said to have been reported in British Columbia and Alberta against married women, wishing to register under their own names for the Dominion voters' lists, rather than under their husbands' names. The motion condemned such a retrograde step and asked the situation be rectified "in view of legal opinions the Elections Act made no such stipulation and a married woman could demand to be registered in her own name."

OTHER RESOLUTIONS

A proposal from Miss M. K. Clifford of Ottawa that married mothers who gave healthy children to the state be granted a pension in proportion to the number of children if the income was otherwise inadequate, met overwhelming defeat.

Approval was given a motion from the Calgary club asking standardization of working hours for domestics and sufficient wages in keeping with the Canadian standard of living.

Indecency in advertising was condemned in a resolution urging a less display of the female form and less flagrant references to hygiene requirements in advertisements.

The convention decided in favor of affiliation with the League of Nations Society and re-emphasized the value of individual clubs of membership in the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

A 10 per cent levy in the form of an "information fee" was approved.

Many visitors were among the 300 dancers thronging the ballroom floor. The informality of the affair was the outstanding note, summer gowns and flannels being conspicuous.

The hits of the evening being from the latest Pandora-Bondell screen production by Warner, "Broadway Gondolier," including "Lonely Gondolier," also "I'm in Love All Over Again" and "The Girl on the Little Blue Plane."

Travel Talk Enjoyed—Under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Metropolitan United Church a large and appreciative audience listened to a travel talk given in the schoolroom by Herbert J. Penderay on Friday evening. Mr. Penderay had recently returned from a six months' tour of the Orient, the South Sea Islands, New Zealand and Australia, and during his trip he made numerous motion films of the places visited. Of these he selected four reels, of which two were in natural colors, dealing mostly with Java, Siam and other South Sea Islands. Of particular interest was the one showing the unearthing of imposing temples built, it is thought, about the eighth century and which suggested that a high state of civilization existed there at that time. His descriptive comments, as these were screened, were quite illuminating, and at the close the chairman, Rev. J. H. A. Warr, expressed to him the thanks of the audience. Those contributing to the musical part of the programme were Miss Edith Howell and Mr. James Petrie, each of whom sang a group of songs that were much enjoyed. Their accompanists were Miss Jessie Smith and Mr. Jack Smith.

PERSONAL

Matthews, D. A. Fair, Ted Cross, C. Lewis, W. J. Florence and Misses Iva Leatham, M. ### Recent Weddings

RICKINSON-KENNEDY
The marriage of a popular young couple drew a big congregation to the First United Church on Saturday evening, when Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., united in marriage Agnes, only daughter of Mrs. A. Kennedy, 1118 Pandora Avenue, and Mr. Stanley Rickinson, second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rickinson, 639 Wilson Street.

For the happy occasion, members of the Young People's Association of the church, of which the bride had been a popular member, had decorated the church with masses of lilies and roses. Three archways, composed of roses and sprays, flanked by baskets of flowers, spanned the aisle. During the service the bride and groom stood beneath the central arch, from which was suspended a large white ball. Standard baskets of gladioli flanked each side of the arch.

Mr. Alfred Gurney played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. C. Glegg, who, with violin obligato by Miss Connie Laing, sang "Love's Coronation" as the register was being signed.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William Rivers, the bride was a winsome picture in her lovely gown of white silk net over tulle, fashioned in Regency style, with a slight train. Her veil of embroidered net was arranged cap fashion beneath a coronet of orange blossoms, the snowy folds, touched here and there with orange blossoms, falling to form a long train.

She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, lilies of the valley and swansons.

Miss Verna Teague of Nanaimo was maid of honor in a pretty frock of pale pink organza with a tight bodice and skirt flared fully below the knees, and worn with a tiny jacket with full puff sleeves, and a large off-the-face hat of pink mohair. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations, roses and sweet peas.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Pattullo in pale yellow organza, and Miss Iris Couch in pale green. Their gowns were fashioned alike with long frilled skirts and frilly capes, and they wore bonnets to match their frocks, and carried colonial bouquets of pink and mauve sweet peas, enchantress carnations and Columbia roses.

Mr. Thomas Rickinson supported his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Ray Rickinson and Mr. Fred Scafe.

Following the ceremony, a largely attended reception was held at the Macleod Hall, which was arranged with a profusion of summer flowers. The bride and groom stood beneath an archway decked with roses to receive the congratulations of their friends. Mrs. Kennedy received the guests in a gown of pale yellow floral tulle and a matching hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. Rivers, aunt of the bride, who was gowned in pale blue georgette with hat an suite.

Supper was served from a table attractively decorated by Mrs. George Glegg, with vases of sweet peas. From the handsome four-tier wedding cake, which centred the table, trails of smilax and tiny roses were carried to each corner of the table.

Among the many lovely gifts received by the young couple was a silver cake basket and electric sandwich toaster from the bride's associates in the Y.P.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickinson left at midnight aboard the Ss. Ruth Alexander for San Diego, the bride traveling in a Nile green suit, pale yellow hat trimmed with green and yellow accessories. After their honeymoon they will make their home in White Horse.

Among the guests at the wedding were: Mr. Robert Rivers, Mrs. J. Crowther, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sanders and son and Mrs. G. Vipond, all of Wellington; Mrs. G. Slaughter and Mr. Arthur Johnston, Nanaimo; Mr. and Mrs. A. Rivers, Miss Lois Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Troupe, James Island; Miss Margaret Dickson, Pachena Point, and Miss Florence Rivers of Vancouver.

NOTED SINGER IS PRESENTED

Dalton Baker, English Baritone, and Vancouver Pupil Delight Victorians

Music lovers of Victoria were given an artistic treat yesterday afternoon and evening when Don Marvin Adams presented Dalton Baker, famous English baritone, and Miss Annabel MacKenzie, mezzo-soprano, of Vancouver, and one of Mr. Baker's leading mainland pupils, at a reception at "Chiffendon," 1790 Beach Drive, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Adams.

Mr. Adams was host to nearly 100 guests during the day, representing various musical organizations of the city, who gave prolonged applause to the performances of Mr. Baker and his pupil. In response to insistent demands, Miss MacKenzie sang a number of popular numbers.

Miss MacKenzie's work brought deserved praise from her listeners, who commented particularly on her breath control and splendid diction. Her songs included: "The Longing of the Soul," by George Able (1877); "Come Lord Jesus" (Old English); "O Thank Be Not" (Gustav Holst); "Across the Steppes" (Gretchenbrot); "Procession" (Oscar Franck); and "Devotion" (Strauss).

Mr. Baker presented a number of spirited selections, including "When Dull" (Old English); "The Golden Vanity" (Sea Song); "Golden Hue of Life Have Fled" (Sir Hubert Parry); "Ethiopia Saluting the Colors" (Charles Wood); "Lorraine" (Lorraine); "Lorraine" (Capel); and "Border Ballads" by Cowen.

Mr. Baker will conduct master classes in singing here for the next three weeks.

Among the invited guests were: Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Madame Eva Baird, Mr. Brian Burdon-Murphy, Mr. Desmond Burdon-Murphy, Miss Alice Barclay, Miss Ethel Baird, Mr. and Mrs. G. Jennings Burnett, Miss Bruce, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Beale, Gen. Sir Charles Delme-Radcliffe, Miss Phyllis Deaville, Mrs. Hebdon Gillespie, Miss W. R. Touche, Miss Annabel MacKenzie (Vancouver), Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fox, Miss Beryl Hyndman, Miss Helen Smith, Mr. Paul Stenton and Miss Edith Adams.

Three Gothic arches, shaded from deep blue through mauve to pink and white, spanned the aisle, those at the sides being flanked by baskets of flowers.

Mr. Oliver Stout, organist, played the Wagner Bridal March as the wedding procession entered the church, and during the service played "O Perfect Love" and as the register was being signed, accompanied Miss Freda Spencer, who sang "At Dawning."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her wedding gown of white satin, made on form-fitting lines, with a slight train. It was buttoned down the back and had long light sleeves and a cowl neckline.

Her veil of embroidered lace was attached to a beaded cap, beneath a triple coronet of orange blossoms, and fell in long folds to form a train. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Miss Evelyn Thomas, sister of the groom, was the only bridesmaid, and wore a charming frock of peach tulle with a close-fitting bodice and a skirt made very full below the hips.

It was worn with a shoulder cape fastened at the throat, and a dainty Nile green wateau hat tied with green ribbon at the back, and trimmed with fall flowers in shades of peach and green. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Acting as flower girls were Trudiebeth and Edith McGill in Kate Greenaway frocks of Nile green tulle and tiny flat hats of peach tulle worn still on their heads and trimmed with roses. They carried Victorian posies of mixed flowers.

Mr. William Lucas of Vancouver was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. Dan Pearmain and Mr. Reuben Nesbitt of Trail, B.C.

A large reception was held after the ceremony in the New Thought Hall, where the decorations were carried out in peach and green. Mrs. Pearmain wore for the occasion a dress of blue tulle, with a black hat and a corsage bouquet of roses, and Mrs. Thomas, a costume of white, and a knot of rosebuds. They were assisted in receiving the guests by the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. John Thomas.

The bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch arranged with gladioli and Madonna lilies.

Supper was served from a table centred with a four-tiered cake set on a lace cloth, the cake being the gift of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. H. Longrigg, of Chemainus.

During the reception vocal numbers were contributed by Mrs. R. McIntosh, Miss Ina Tall, Messrs. James Matheson and Arthur Jackson, accompanied by Mr. Oliver Stout.

After a motor trip in the northern states, and home via British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will make their home in a smart white costume. Among the many gifts was a vase set from the teaching staff of the McKenzie Avenue School and a cut glass vase from the pupils, an electric coffee percolator from the staff of the McGee High School, Vancouver, of which the groom is a member, and a silver cake basket from the First Baptist Church choir, of which the bride had been secretary-treasurer.

Women of the Moose—With the newly-elected officers presiding, the Victoria Chapter Women of the Moose, will hold their first business meeting of the year this evening at 8 o'clock in the K. of P. Hall, 1415 Broad Street. It will be a quarter night and members are asked to bring refreshments.

Ten Per Cent of Marriage
Total Dissolved in British Columbia During Month
Of May

While 321 couples went to the altar in British Columbia in the month of May, another thirty-two went to the courts and had their unions dissolved, according to provincial vital statistics branch figures.

The number of weddings was a slight increase over last year when the monthly total was 303. Thirteen dissolutions were granted husbands and eighteen to wives and one marriage was nullified.

Male births outnumbered females by thirty-eight. There were 452 male births registered against 414 female, a total of 866, against 828 in the corresponding month of last year. Of the total, however, only 783 were actually born in that month, the other eighty-three being delayed registrations. There were eighteen stillbirths.

Deaths numbered 548 against 495 a year ago. Victoria had sixty-eight births, forty-nine deaths and nineteen marriages.

The branch reported 163 B.C. deaths from notifiable diseases, including seventy-nine from cancer and forty-one from tuberculosis. Motor accidents were responsible for nine deaths.

SCHMELING IN POOR DISPLAY

German Fighter Whips Uzcudun But Loses Prestige With Nazi Supporters

Berlin, July 8.—Max Schmeling, the dark visaged slugger of Germany, has added Paulino Uzcudun to his list of victims but has lost prestige in the eyes of Nazi followers.

The German battered the Spanish woodchopper around a Berlin ring for twelve rounds yesterday, bruised and cut his face, but failed even to knock him to his knees.

Instead of crumpling, as enthusiasts thought he would, Uzcudun continually moved within the long arms of Schmeling and belted his body with short rights and lefts. Several times he drove the former champion into the ropes.

Schmeling, who weighed 192½ as against 208 for his opponent, claimed he had been struck a low blow in the sixth round that sapped his strength and decreased his effectiveness during the late rounds. The crowd of 63,000 including high Nazi officials, which had cheered lustily when Schmeling entered the ring, accorded him only mild applause and left the ring after his uninspiring victory.

Tillicums Oppose Stockers To-night

Tillicums, present third-place occupants in the Commercial Baseball League, will swing into action against the first-place Stockers nine at the Athletic Park to-night, commencing at 8 o'clock. A win for the clubmen will put them in second position in the league standing.

Getting away to a poor start at the beginning of the season, when they dropped most of their games, Tillicums appear to have at last gathered together a winning combination, as they have won their last three games to improve their standing considerably. Should they come through on the right end of the score to-night, the clubmen will become serious contenders for the Commercial championship.

Osmun, who has had considerable success of late, having won two of his last three starts, will appear on the mound for the up and coming Tillicums. He will be assisted on the receiving end by Wally Biepe. Stockers will pin their hopes on Lonnie Murray to keep the clubmen in check. Wally Scott will be his battery mate.

HOME RUN PARADE

The Big Six was reduced to normal size yesterday when Wally Moses of the Athletics failed to keep pace with Joe Vosmik in hitting through a doubleheader. Vosmik hit three times in eight attempts, raised his average two points to .343 and took undisputed hold of the third American League berth. Charley Gehring did the day's heavy hitting for the Athletics with three blows in as many official times up and four runs. That hoisted his mark to .351, a rise of six points.

The leader, Arky Vaughan, lost a point with one blow in three tries while the others suffered slightly larger losses.

G.O.P. TURNS BACK TO LINCOLN FOR GUIDANCE

Lined in majesty against its background of trees, Abraham Lincoln's tomb was the focus for Republicans, turning for inspiration back to the martyred President as they gathered in Springfield, Ill., in their "grass roots" convention. Shown here is the throng which made the pilgrimage to the tomb for a memorial service during the convalescence, at which speakers continually dwelt on the principles of Lincoln in calling for the return of Republicans to power.

CAMBRIDGE IN CREW VICTORY

Captures Henley Cup in English Regatta Final; Diamond Sculls to Swiss

Henley, England, July 8.—Prime Minister and Mrs. Baldwin saw Cambridge University win the Henley Cup for the first time in history Saturday.

Going to the front as the stroke of the Leander Club slipped off his side at the first stroke in the race, Pembroke College, Cambridge, took a lead of three lengths and won in the fast time of 5:53.

Pembroke's second boat just failed to win the Thames Challenge Cup, retained by London. The winners, timed at 7:05, were only a quarter of a length to the good.

The Zurich, Switzerland, crew, one of the finest ever seen at Henley, will take the Stewards' Cup to the continent for the first time. They won by three lengths from London in 7:14, breaking the old record by ten seconds.

Another Swiss victory was registered in the Diamond Sculls when Ruffi beat Zavel of Caschovakia by three and a half lengths in 8:15.

The Ladies' Plate and Visitors' Cup goblets all went to Cambridge. Reading University retained the Wyfolds Cup, beating Thames.

JACK MEDICA BEATEN TWICE

Seattle Swim Star Drops Title Races to Ralph Flanagan and John Macionis

Detroit, July 8.—Ralph Flanagan, seventeen-year-old Miami, Fla., high school boy, won a second crown in the national A.A.U. swimming championships here Saturday evening, swimming the 880-yard freestyle in 10:07.6, an unofficial world mark for the long course.

It was the third defeat of the meet for Jack Medica, Seattle ace, who holds the listed world and United States long-course record for the 880-yard event of 10:15.4.

Jimmy Gihula, Detroit Athletic Club, successfully defended his title in the 200-yard freestyle, although he swam the distance in the comparatively slow time of 2:15.1.

Another defending titleholder, the Lake Shore Athletic Club, Chicago, came through in the 300-metre medley relay, defeating a team representing the Olneyville, R.I., Boys' Club.

NEW RECORD SET
The winner's time, 3:24.8, unofficially established a new United States record, and officials said it also would be entered as a world mark for the long course.

The team trophy for the meet, which concluded with the medley relay event, went to the Detroit Athletic Club, which had forty-five points.

Two new champions were crowned on the basis of record-shattering performances.

John Macionis, nineteen-year-old Philadelphia youth, upset the dope in the 440-yard freestyle to wrest the title from Medica. Macionis was timed at 4:51.8. The recognized world record for the event was 4:52.0.

Adolph Kiefer, seventeen-year-old Chicagoan, won a decided victory in the 100-metre backstroke. He was clocked in 1:07.8. The old mark was 1:09.2.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

FRED MARBERRY will be calling them in the American Baseball League for a long time to come if he does half as well as Bill Dinnenn, an even more famous pitcher who stepped from the box to umpiring.

Dinnenn, a big, right-hander like Marberry, was one of the outstanding hurlers in the early years of the American League, and still is among those present as an umpire.

As a member of the Boston Red Sox, then sometimes referred to as the Beaneaters, Dinnenn had such famous teammates as Cy Young, Babe Ferris, Freddie Parent, the original Jimmy Collins, Frank LaChance, Lou Criger, and Pat Dougherty.

The Red Sox was a great club in those days. They were played by Collins, generally acknowledged as the finest third baseman the game has produced.

Boston, through the stellar pitching of Young and Dinnenn, won pennants in 1903 and 1904. In 1903, Boston met the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first world series played between American and National League teams. It was a thriller, with Boston winning a gallant uphill battle to win five games to three.

Dinnenn turned in three victories to become the first of a long line of the fall fashion show's heroes.

Shortly after becoming an umpire, Dinnenn officiated in the most novel game ever played in the junior organization. That was the first between the Detroit Tigers and the Philadelphia Athletics in 1912, when the entire Detroit team went on strike following the suspension of Ty Cobb for assaulting a fan in New York.

The late Hugh Jennings recruited a strange team and went through with the contest. With Jennings' assistants, the veteran Jim McQuinn catching, and Joe Sugden playing first base, Detroit went on the field and took a 24 to 2 pasting. Jennings even appeared as a pinch hitter.

Twenty years after Dinnenn pitched Boston to a world title, Marberry broke in with Washington.

Marberry's size and mannerisms quickly gained for him the title of Firpo, after the Wild Bull of the Pampas.

After winning four games and losing none in his first season in the American League, Marberry, in his second season, 1924, worked in fifty games and helped the Senators acquire their first flag.

Marberry, especially renowned as a relief worker, remained with Washington through the 1932 campaign, when he was traded to Detroit with Charley Fischer for the accomplished left-hander, Earl Whitehill.

Marberry won sixteen games and lost eleven with a rather slovenly ball club back of him in 1933. The large boy was a big help to Mickey Cochrane during the first half of 1934, when he accounted for most of the fifteen victories he registered. He was beaten only five times, but lost his effectiveness toward the tag end.

Marberry's twelve-year record in the majors is 146 victories and eighty-six reverses. Most pitchers would settle for a record of that kind.

Marberry played on three pennant-winning clubs; Dinnenn on two.

Like Dinnenn, Marberry is ideally built for an umpire's role. Again, like Dinnenn, he is one of the wealthier men actively engaged in baseball.

Dinnenn has a brewery running for him in Syracuse while he palms the athletes safe or thumbs them out.

His having been a star pitcher does not necessarily mean that Marberry will be a capable umpire, however.

A number of the better umpires played little or no baseball, notably Billy Evans, now general manager of the Cleveland Indians, and Beans Reardon, of the National League staff.

Canada's Schoolboy Cricketers Do Well

Cobham, Surrey, July 8.—Canada's touring schoolboy cricketers made an impressive showing Saturday in their first match on English soil, scoring 167 runs for six wickets against Downsda College. The English team had been held to seventy-eight runs for the loss of four wickets when stumps were drawn to enable the Canadians to leave for Winchester, where they were slated to play their second match to-day.

Dizzy-Daffy In Fine Display To Beat Cincinnati

Back in Good Graces of Home Fans After 9 to 4 and 5 to 1 Decisions

GIANTS-TIGERS BOTH VICTORS

One of the most annoying things about Frank Frisch's job of managing the St. Louis Cardinals must be that it is so hard to stay mad at Dizzy Dean. The elder brother of the famous pitching pair had developed a habit of getting himself in wrong with the manager and the fans by displays of temperment, but each time he pitches his way back into their good graces.

Last Monday he had a row with his teammates in Pittsburgh and the fans tossed lemons at him when he returned, only to forget their anger in their pride at his pitching. Yesterday they weren't prepared to say anything more damaging than roundabout boos when Dizzy relieved Jess Haines in the fourth inning of the opening game against the Cincinnati Reds—his first appearance after his recent exhibition game "rebellion" at St. Paul.

But old Dizzy again went out and pitched himself a ball game, checking the Cincinnati rally and giving only three hits through the rest of the game while Cards won 9 to 4. Brother Paul followed him on the hill and outpitched Paul Derringer with the aid of enemy errors for a 5 to 1 victory.

Handicap Meets Prove Popular

Victorians appear to be showing a much greater interest in the weekly handicap track meets staged by the Y.M.C.A., as a large number of fans were on hand at the High School grounds Saturday afternoon to witness the running of the various events under the direction of John Baxter, official handicapper. All events were well contested, there being a much larger entry list than in the previous meet.

Joe Addison, who, since his running activities at the police sports in Vancouver recently, has acquired the name of Victoria's "Flying Cop," took the 220 yards from a fast field. Addison started from scratch but soon overtook the field to win in 32.3 seconds. W. Thompson, with a handicap of fifteen yards, was second in this event, with H. Clark third, with an eighteen-yard handicap.

The forty-yard handicap given to Alec Gaunt proved too much for Addison in the half-mile event, and he was forced to take second place honors. Gaunt won the event in 1:53.3. C. Cunningham, starting with a twenty-yard start over Addison, finished third.

Ann Lister headed the field in the 100 yards for girls after being given a six-yard start. Virginia Hall, who started from scratch, came home second, while Doreen Watts, with a twelve-yard handicap, took over third place.

The high jumping honors for girls went to Yvonne Lowden when she cleared the bar at over four feet. The men's high jumping event was captured by W. Thompson with a five-foot leap. O. Murtileague was good for second place as he cleared four feet ten inches.

Alderman Bob Dewar Lawn Bowling Champ

Defeats A. Marconini 15-11 in Peace Cup Final For Vancouver Island Singles Championship; Third Victory For New Titleholder; Mrs. Mowat Women's Monarch

For the next twelve months the Peace Cup, representing lawn bowling singles championship of Vancouver Island, will rest in the capable hands of Alderman R. A. C. "Bob" Dewar. On Saturday evening, playing on his home green, the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club member, defeated A. Marconini, fellow clubmate and defending champion, 15-11. It was Dewar's third victory in the Island title event.

In the semi-finals Dewar accounted for S. Mitchell, C.P.R. club, 15-7 and Marconini eliminated the last up-island threat in the person of J. Barton, Nanaimo, 15-9. At the conclusion of the final Dave Dewar presented the handsome trophy to the new champion. The tournament was run off on the greens of the Victoria and C.P.R. clubs.

The women's championship for the Wenger Trophy played at the Burnside Club saw Mrs. Mowat, Burnside, lift the honors. Mrs. Watson, Nanaimo, was second, and Mrs. Pauline, also from the up-island city, third.

In the consolation rinks, a squad led by Mrs. Christie, Nanaimo, and made up of Mrs. Austin (C.P.R.), Mrs. Cook (Burnside) and Mrs. Davis (Victoria West), walked off with the honor. Stan Hawkins, popular secretary of the Burnside Club, presented the women's awards.

The Gyros, having captured the first half honors earlier in the season, will now play off with the Kinsmen in a two out of three series for the league championship. At the time, the Rotarians and Rotary Clubs will play a consolation series. The play-off series, which is scheduled to be played at Beacon Hill is as follows:

RYDER GOLF TEAM NAMED

Walter Hagen Will Lead U.S. Pros Against Invading British Players

New York, July 8.—United States' hopes of recapturing the world's professional golf team supremacy from Great Britain will ride on the shoulders of six veterans and four youngsters at the fifth renewal of the Ryder Cup matches September 27.

The veteran Walter Hagen will pilot the U.S. Professional Golfers' Association Team for the fifth time since the matches were inaugurated informally in 1926. Play will be at Ridgewood, N. Y.

Paul Runyon, U.S. professional titleholder, was named the number two player. The next two places went to "Slow-Motion" Sam Parks, Jr., Pittsburgh, and big Olin Dutra, Monterey, Calif., 1935 and 1934 winners, respectively, of the open championship.

Continuing their victorious march towards the Cobble Hill championship and the right to play the winners of the Duncan League, the "Cobblers" High School Softball team defeated the South Cowichan nine 11 runs to 8 in a game played on the Cobble Hill grounds Friday evening. The win marked the sixth successive victory for the school boys, who have only three more games left on their schedule.

On Wednesday afternoon, Spencer's will journey to the up-island centre to take on the fast-stepping "Cobblers." It is quite probable that the Silent Glow, one of Victoria's leading senior A teams will play an exhibition game with the Cobble Hill boys within the near future.

Baseball Waiver Sum Gets Boost

Cleveland, July 8.—American Baseball League Club owners, at a special meeting yesterday, decided to lift the waiver price from $4,000 to $7,500, effective at once, for player transfers within the circuit.

This put the price on a level with the waiver figure for transfers from one major league to the other. It is designed to stimulate more player exchanges on the theory that a club will be more willing to part with a player desired by a rival team at the increased price.

BISLEY RIFLE MEET STARTS

Canadian Riflemen Do Well in Opening Matches of Great Empire Event

Canadians Press

Bisley Camp, England, July 8.—In blazing sunshine, the seventy-second annual meeting of the National Rifle Association opened to-day with thousands of expert military marksmen from all parts of the empire, including the Canadian team of eighteen, ready for the two-weeks' fray.

Sgt. Major T. Moore of the Small Arms School won the first match of the meeting, the Southern Railway, calling for seven shots at 200 yards with a possible thirty-five. Only seven Canadians entered this match. Sgt. C. Ididols, Calgary leading with thirty-three. Sgt. Major Moore collected first prize of $40.

Other Canadian scores in the Southern Railway were: Lt. James Ross, Montreal, 30; G.M.E. Alex Farnell, Verdun, 29; Capt. A. B. Coulter, Ottawa, 28; Lt. Neil Dow, Saint John, and Lt. H. D. Proctor, Ottawa, 26; and Sgt. Major J. Trainor, Toronto, 25.

The only other event on the opening day's card was the Queen Mary's prize, fired under service conditions, a deliberate fire with movement, rapid and sharpshooting. Lt. Ross and Lt. Dow each chalked up 45 out of a possible 50. In the first practice, which called for ten shots at 600 yards, Ididols had 42 and Trainor 37.

PRO OFFER MADE TO TENNIS STARS

Los Angeles, July 8.—On offer to Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs to turn professional tennis players for a purse of $25,000 was sent Saturday to the two young women in Wimbledon, England, by Harry Meyers, American Legion official. The sum would be paid the pair for only one match, to be played in Los Angeles. Meyers is secretary of the ways and means committee of the Los Angeles County Council of the American Legion, which represents 156 posts in the county.

The total purse would be $25,000, to be divided between the two players in any way which they might agree.

PARELLI WINS AT WRESTLING

Italian Middleweight Takes Two Out of Three Falls From Osborne

Saturday evening's wrestling card at the Tiliem Gym saw Joe Parelli, Italian middleweight, score an odd-ball victory over Dutch Osborne, Bellingham, in the main event.

Parelli cut loose with his usual rough tactics at the beginning of the match and in the third round, after he had pinned Osborne, Referee Griffin awarded a fall to the Bellingham boy a penalty to Parelli for his methods.

The next round saw the Italian secure the tying fall and he followed it up with another in the fifth to end the match. Parelli used body slams to take both his falls.

Johnny Coyle, billed to meet Parelli, failed to put in an appearance, and Osborne, scheduled to wrestle "Two-Gun" Bob Miller, Chicago, was sent in against the Italian.

Miller gave a demonstration of the various wrestling holds and their application, and received a good hand from the fans. He later won two rounds in an exhibition match with Griffin.

Retain Singles Championships of Victoria Lawn Tennis Club; Hocking Forced to Four Sets in Defeating Don Campbell

Mildred Phillipsen and Ross Hocking retained their championships on Saturday when the finals of the annual Victoria Lawn Tennis Club tournament were held. Favored by good weather the events were run off promptly.

Mrs. R. B. Wilson and Reg. Corfield were also a winning combination to retain their open mixed doubles titles. Mrs. Wilson paired with Jean Campbell to win the women's doubles, while Reg. Corfield teamed with Don Campbell to take the men's open doubles. Lieut. R. S. Dyer, from Work Point, won the men's handicap singles, while Kay Groat won the similar event for women. R. E. A. Diespecker and John Featherston were the winning men's handicap doubles team. Mrs. S. P. Birley and Holdridge combined to win the mixed handicap doubles. The women's handicap doubles event was held over until next week. A record entry graced the affair, which took two weeks to conclude. The entry totaled 385.

A two-hour struggle was climaxed when Hocking defeated Don Campbell in the final of the men's singles for the club championship, 6-1, 3-6, 10-8, 6-3. It marked the third win in four years for Hocking. The winner ran off the opening set by keeping deep shots to the back-court and following in behind them to pick off the winning points with volleys. Breaks in service featured the early part of the second set which Campbell finally won at 6-3. He ran into an early lead in the third set which Hocking attacked, after being down 3-5, and after storming the net for deep shots to the back-court and following in behind them to pick off the winning points with volleys. Breaks in service featured the early part of the second set which Campbell finally won at 6-3. He ran into an early lead in the third set which Hocking attacked, after being down 3-5, and after storming the net for deep shots to the back-court and following in behind them to pick off the winning points with volleys.

The showing of Mrs. Birley in the women's singles stands as an incentive to new members. In her first year she defeated Mrs. R. B. Wilson in the semi-finals to oppose the defending champion in the final. The scores of 6-4, 6-3, do not give much indication of the final match. The two players rallied back and forth for many long duels, but Miss Phillipsen's better backhand brought her points when most needed. She was steeper, but was kept on the run by her opponent's hard hit forehand. The match was interesting to the spectators.

The old guard finally fell before the men's doubles finals were reached. Marsh Gordon and Eric McCallum were eliminated in a held-over semi-final match, by the veteran H. G. Garrett and Paul Phillips, who played an inspired game in both the semi and final contest. Reg. Corfield and Don Campbell were extended to four sets by the latter team to eke out a 5-7, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2 victory. The third set might just as easily have gone to the losers, who dropped their service on the winning game.

REPEAT VICTORY

Mrs. Wilson and Jean Campbell, who also repeated their success of last year, were not extended a win from Mildred Phillipsen and Betty Featherston. The second set was deuced, but the winners had too much power at the net and won in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0.

The final of the mixed saw the previous year's winners taken to an extra set by Betty Featherstone and Ross Hocking, who snatched the initial set and were well headed in the second before they dropped their service when it was most needed. The winners had the edge on the play and well deserved their win. Scores were 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Lieut. Dyer had a good handicap, and after dropping a set to Marsh Gordon in an early round had matters his own way. He defeated Hugh Rider in the finals, 7-5, 6-3. Kay Groat defeated Kay Williams, 6-7, 6-4, to win the women's handicap singles. Following the finals, Mrs. C. E. Hodgins presented the prize to the new champions. She was introduced by H. B. Witter, president of the club. Complete results follow:

Women's Singles—Final
Miss M. Phillipsen won from Mrs. S. P. Birley, 6-4, 6-3.

Men's Singles—Final
Ross W. Hocking won from J. D. D. Campbell, 6-1, 3-6, 10-8, 6-3.

Men's Doubles—Semi-Final
H. G. Garrett and R. A. Phillips won from McCallum and Gordon, 1-6, 7-5, 7-3.

Men's Doubles—Final
W. E. Corfield and J. D. Campbell (Turn to Page 12, Col. 2)

Goldstream Beaten By Coldwater In Longacres Handicap

Victoria Horse Drops Neck Call In Great Finish

Mrs. Richard F. Carman's Thoroughbred Comes From Behind in Victory

Track Churned Into Quagmire

Seattle, July 8.—Some 7,000 customers braved the downpour yesterday to witness the running of the second annual Governor's Handicap at the Longacres racetrack. The rain came down, churned the track into another quagmire that enabled Mrs. Richard F. Carman to realize her first triumph of the season, when her sterling four-year-old son of Craig-gower, Coldwater, marched off with the afternoon's feature.

The fans who attended despite the deplorable weather conditions were rewarded for their courage when Coldwater and Goldstream, the starting Canadian from Asa Smith's stable, produced a real battle in the final half-mile of the handicap.

Only four horses went postward in this tilt that last year was won by Lady Beth in the mud and on its first scheduled running, in 1933, was called off because of rain and mud. This mud forcing the various changes throughout the programme, the competition in the Governor's Handicap settled down to instigator, the Mrs. C. B. Irwin Hoptel; Rex Buck's Mr. Bun and the first named two.

GOLDSTREAM FAVORED
Goldstream went postward the favorite and once under way from a break that was somewhat delayed by instigator and the winner, the Canadian dashed off to a close finish, closely attended by instigator. At the turn into the back stretch instigator was done, having been rushed off his legs by the hurry up tactics of his rider. When instigator dropped back, Goldstream widened on his rivals, with Coldwater and Mr. Bun just beginning to get down to the business of running.

GREAT STRETCH DUEL
Down the backstretch it was apparent that instigator was through and the race was to resolve itself into a duel between the pacesetter and the steadily closing Carman horse. At the far turn Coldwater brought along carefully by Jockey Noel "Spots" Richardson, rushed to Goldstream and stride by stride cut down the Canadian's lead until the Carman horse caught Goldstream at the last turn.

Now Goldstream and Coldwater brought the crowd to sharp attention when they hooked up for the bitter fight to the end, Jockey Grover Williams, on the Canadian animal, and Richardson giving as brilliant an exhibition of their respective abilities as could be asked.

At the wire Goldstream just failed by a neck.

In the rain and mud of yesterday Apprentice Ralph Neves continued to increase his Longacres total of first place horses and kept on chasing the leader for the national saddle championship of the American turf. The boy rode two winners for a total of fourteen during the past five days of racing and a total of 104 for the year. ### Local Elevens Tie With H.M.S. Danae

Playing in a sudden-death fixture for the Maynard Challenge Trophy, H.M.S. Danae's soccer eleven were held to a 2 to 2 tie by the local Garrison eleven at Work Point Barracks Saturday afternoon. The return match will probably be played when the visiting Danae returns to this port in August. The blue-jackets captured the trophy last year 2 to 1.

Yesterday evening, the first division Esquimalt eleven took on the lads from the Danae at Bullen Park, but they, like the Garrison, were unable to break a 2 to 2 deadlock. The visitors displayed good form in this match, and, as the score would indicate, there was little to choose between the squads.

RAIN DELAYS TENNIS MEET

Sunday's Draw in Esquimalt Tournaments Postponed; Six Matches Billed To-day

With all courts in an unplayable condition, due to the heavy downpour of the previous night, Sunday's draw in the annual Esquimalt tennis championships had to be postponed. Play will get underway late this afternoon providing the Hillcrest Club courts are dried out sufficiently. Saturday's draw produced some excellent tennis, as is witnessed by the scores when six of the ten men's singles matches went to extra sets. S. Hicks went down to defeat at the hands of A. Webster in one of the feature matches of the day. Webster took the opening set with comparative ease at 6-1, but his opponent played brilliantly to capture an exciting second set at 9-7. Rallying nicely in the final set, Webster literally blasted his way to a 6-1 decision and the game.

Another good match saw Ivan Temple, veteran of many tournaments, eliminate young Don Warder, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2. Warder surprised the gallery with his dashing play in the first set, which he took at 6-1, but the well-seasoned Temple found himself in the second set and cut down his opponent with the loss of only one game. Alan Wright, men's singles champion of the Hillcrest Club, dropped the first set 2-6 in his match with S. Wright, but came back strong to take the next two sets and match, 6-4, 6-3.

Marathon honors for the day's longest match went to Reg Wood and A. Knight, who battled for two and a half hours before Knight succeeded in breaking through at 6-6 in the final set. Wood captured the first set after a thrilling struggle at 7-5, but weakened badly to drop the second set 6-1 and even the match. The final set was bitterly contested, and both players were on the verge of exhaustion before the match was finally completed. A. Smith, in winning the second set, 6-3, extended V. Hicks, with hard driving and good volleying, before going down to defeat, 6-2, 3-6, 6-0.

To-day's draw follows:
5.30—C. Margison vs. "Skipper" McVane, D. Nixon vs. T. Warder.
6.00—C. Bull vs. R. Simpson, B. Rafts vs. W. Wellings.
6.30—A. Proven vs. McPhee, A. Cadell vs. C. Harbison.

H. Smith Star In Albions' Victory

Scores Century as Team Defeats Cowichan in Cricket League Match Here; Two Other Games Drawn

Good batting performances

featured Saturday's three cricket fixtures here as Albions defeated Cowichan by 121 runs and four wickets at Beacon Hill Park, as Incogs and Five C's played to a draw at University School grounds and as a Victoria Club team and one representing Fathers and Sons were forced to declare without a decision at Macdonald Park.

H. Smith was the star of the Albions' victory over Cowichan, putting up a century before he retired.

He added a nice sixty-two and then took five Cowichan wickets for fifty-seven runs in 9.4 overs. The latter player received a silver flower basket, a wedding present from his club, during the interval.

The Albions declared when their total reached 239 for a total of six wickets.

The up-Islanders failed to stand up against the opposing bowlers and C. Green, with thirty-three, was the highest batter.

NEAR CENTURY

Reg Wenman missed his second century of the season by seven runs when he took a beautiful catch to dismiss the Cowichan star in the game at Mount Tolmie. The Incogs retired with a total of 165 for nine and Five C's replied with 106 for five when stumps were drawn. Jack Payne took five Incogs wickets in the tussle.

With G. C. Grant leading the batsmen with a total of seventy-eight, Victoria Club put up 132 runs before declaring for seven at Macdonald Park. The Fathers and Sons side replied with 105 for four, as R. A. Wilcox Sr. scored fifty-five not out.

Wants Parking Rule Changed

Chief Heatley Asks Council Approval For Parallel Parking on Douglas St.

Parallel parking on Douglas Street, from Johnson to Fort Streets, will be recommended to the City Council this evening by Chief of Police Heatley. The chief has approached several city fathers on the question and has been given to understand a number of the council members favor the change.

The alteration in the regulations will be made to conform with the introduction of automatic traffic signals here and coincides with the chief's policy to speed up city traffic and keep it moving in an orderly manner.

This latest move is expected to give an extra ten feet to the width of Douglas Street, if the council should approve it, and this, the chief points out will be of material benefit to the motoring traffic.

It will be of chief assistance in teaching the motorists to draw up in double file when stopping before a signal and it is hoped it will eliminate the existence of long single files of cars.

While the chief realizes approval of this change may work a hardship on merchants, he points out that traffic efficiency is a primary necessity for the control. At intersections where there are safety zones, angle parking creates an element of danger at the point between the end of a zone and a car parked at an angle to the curb. It creates a bottle-neck effect which slows up traffic. This would be eliminated by the change.

In support of his contention the chief noted that Victoria is singular among Pacific Coast cities in permitting angle parking in the business area.

To Advise Marriage If Relief Not Given

J. Irving of Esquimalt will advise his three sons to get married immediately, unless the municipality pays them single men's relief, he informed the Esquimalt Council in a letter received Friday evening.

"In the event of your refusal to put these men on relief, I will suggest that they get married, when, automatically, they will have to receive married men's relief," Mr. Irving wrote in his letter.

The letter was received and filed.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Santa Monica, Calif., July 8.—To the Editor of The Times:—How are some of these sporting writers going to ever get through apologizing for the things they said about Helen Will's gameness? They didn't think she could have been hurt that day in '33 for she never died on the court. Two long years of hearing lies at her sportsmanship, and nursing her self back to health, just to show 'em, is a long time. And don't forget that other Helen. She put up a great fight and it was tough for her to lose. We can sure swell up and be mighty proud of both of 'em. And they are even. They both met the king and queen. And, say I bet if the truth was known those two girls don't hate each other any worse than any other two star rival athletes in any line.

Yours,

Will Rogers

CIRCUS OPENS HERE TO-NIGHT

Polack Brothers' Show at Armories; Doors Open at 7 o'clock

Had anyone visited the Armories this morning he would have been impressed by the activity displayed in the building. Polack Brothers' Circus arrived on schedule and immediately started unloading various trucks of circus paraphernalia while the performers were seeking quarters at the various hotels of the city.

All to-day the stage crew was placing the rigging in vantage points so that all the acts could be presented without delay and to the best advantage of onlookers. The circus is playing its return engagement in this city and many new acts have been added to the programme from last year.

Arrangements have been made for elevated seats so all may have a good chance of seeing the show. Doors will open at 7 o'clock to-night and the show will start about 8 o'clock. Free dancing will be a feature for all those attending the circus. Acrobats, high wire walkers, educated dogs, monkeys and ponies, Spanish verb artists, bounding table experts, perch acts, Roman ring-silver whirl in mid-air, clowns galore and other outstanding acts will be featured.

Two matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday, when there will be reduced admission prices for the children.

WOULD CUT DOWN POWER

Ald. McGavin Seeks to Limit B.C. Police Head's License Rights

Abolition of the powers conferred upon the commissioner of the British Columbia Provincial Police, which allow him to deprive a motorist of his driving license, without public trial, if the commissioner sees fit, is sought in a resolution Ald. Andrew McGavin intends to present to the City Council this evening for ratification and passage to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention.

"The Motor Vehicle Act, being chapter 177 of the Revised Statutes of British Columbia 1924, gives to the superintendent of provincial police, now known as commissioner, extraordinary powers, by section 37 thereof," Ald. McGavin stated. "These powers are greater than the powers possessed by a police magistrate under the act."

"A police magistrate or other functionary having the powers of a police magistrate, can only suspend a license after conviction, and the commissioner of police, by the powers conferred upon him by section 37, can suspend a license, and all rights of the licensee thereunder, for such period as the commissioner may see fit, or may cancel a license," the alderman stated. "It lies within the power of the commissioner," he continued, "under this section to exercise his opinion upon proof to his satisfaction of the fact or existence of such violation or unfitness and without the necessity of holding any formal or public or other hearing."

"This power is vested in the commissioner irrespective of whether the licensee is a resident of a municipal corporation or not. If he does an act which 'in the opinion' of the commissioner shows him to be a dangerous driver, he can, above quoted."

"The power is a very drastic power, but the commissioner is within the rights vested in him by reason of the Motor Vehicle Act."

"The question, however, as to whether section 37 carries with it the implied obligation, or necessity, of the commissioner to hear a person, is another matter. It is, of course, a well-known principle that all parties should be heard, but seemingly that principle has gone by the boards long ago," he concluded.

WILL CONSIDER FREIGHT RATES

The city was advised to present its case for lower freight rates on apples from the Okanagan being shipped through this port to the Board of Railway Commissioners during their session here starting on Friday.

The advice was given in a letter from the acting secretary of the board, Mr. Bruce Lyon in acknowledgment of communications from the city to the board asking for a more equitable rate.

The question will be taken up at the local session of the board scheduled for the Court House at 10 o'clock on Friday.

MUST REGAIN PUBLIC FAITH

Chief Need of Profession to Recapture Confidence, Willes-Chitty Tells Lawyers

"The origins of the legal profession are lost—even legend does not give them to us—but we know that at the time of Edward the Confessor the profession of law was well established," said R. M. Willes-Chitty of Toronto, editor of The Fortnightly Law Journal, at the convention luncheon of the Law Society of B.C. in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Mr. Willes-Chitty spoke on "The Position of the Lawyer in Society." Nearly 150 members of the profession, including the leading justices of the province, attended the luncheon. Frank Higgins, K.C., who presided, likened Mr. Willes-Chitty's coming to Victoria to the personal appearance of the lawyers' favorite editor.

"The names of Willes-Chitty will last as long as law is read, studied and expounded," said Mr. Higgins.

Mr. Willes-Chitty went back to the beginning to trace the historical development in early England of the functions of the attorney and of the advocate or pleader.

"The necessity for the attorney arose from the illiteracy of the average litigant," Mr. Willes-Chitty said. "The necessity for the advocate arose out of the fact that the work of pleading was beyond the capacity of the average litigant. The advocate was the litigant's shield in court."

"The profession and the common law were cradled together. The profession's position in society in those days was founded on learning. If you take away learning from our profession we become a trade. All we have to work with is our brains, and if we don't use them I think we don't become a trade even—just common laborers."

"The law is the human attempt to achieve justice. Law is the rules of justice; if you have no rules you have no justice."

"The lawyer owes it to himself, the public and the profession to see that his armament is of the best."

AIRPORT PLEAS ACKNOWLEDGED

"This matter will be brought to the attention of the responsible officials of the department," the communication stated.

In his letter to the city, D. B. Plunkett stated he had received the city's resolution and had forwarded it to the Department of National Defence for their consideration. He vouched his support to the subject matter outlined in the city's letter.

LADY ASHLEY OFF TO QUEBEC

Travels Toward England From Vancouver; Doug Fairbanks to Hollywood

Canadian Press Vancouver, July 8.—Lady Sylvia Ashley to-day was en route to Quebec City, where she plans on taking passage on the liner Empress of Britain next Friday for England. She was accompanied by her maid when she left here yesterday evening.

Half an hour after Lady Ashley's departure, Douglas Fairbanks boarded a plane for Seattle, bound for Hollywood, where he is scheduled to continue meetings with other members of United Artists.

Mr. Fairbanks, before leaving, said he expected to finish his business in the California city in a few days, then go to New York. His plans after that were indefinite, he said. He was accompanied from here by his secretary, Kenneth Davenport, and David Rose, New York motion picture financier.

The departure of Lady Ashley was unexpected. Previously it had been reported Mr. Fairbanks would return here after concluding his business in Hollywood and that he and Lady Ashley would go on a fishing trip to Vancouver Island. It was also reported that they had considered boating passage to Honolulu from here to rejoin their cruise party in the South Sea.

MANY DIE IN CHINA FLOODS

Millions of Inhabitants Affected as Yangtze Spreads Over Great Areas

Associated Press Nanking, China, July 8.—The Yangtze's mad rampage swept onward over central China to-day as governmental reports stated millions of persons were affected and property damage would reach a staggering figure.

The cabinet was expected to discuss emergency relief measures Tuesday. Official advice stated thirteen counties of Hunan province and ten of Kiangsi were completely flooded, while dike protecting the Kiangsi region had collapsed.

Information from other sections was incomplete because of destruction of communications.

The Yangtze crushed the dike protecting Shao, important in southern Hunan province, and grave fear was expressed for the population of 100,000. Fragmentary reports stated panic reigned in the city as old and

PERHAPS THE EXPERIENCE of no one individual is a lamp to guide the feet of another," said a woman to me the other day, "but I often feel that I would like to tell other women who are wrestling with the problem of the philandering husband and how I settled it."

"I did it by changing his status from a husband into a star boarder, and I believe that the results have been better for him, better for me, and infinitely better for the children than they would have been had I broken up the home and rushed with my grievances to the divorce court."

"Of course, when a wife finds out that her husband is tired of her and that he is having affairs with other women, her first angry impulse is to jam on her hat and leave him. Her heart is torn with jealousy. Her pride humbled. Her sense of justice outraged. She feels that the only thing on earth she wants is to have the tie between them broken as quickly as possible."

"Divorce seems the solution of all her woes, for somehow women have a curious faith in the magical powers of a decree absolute. They think that if only they were divorced from their husbands not only would they cease to love the men who have betrayed them, but they themselves would somehow become young girls again, attractive to men."

"They simply ignore the fact that divorce is no panacea for the ache in a heart, and that a divorcee with a pack of children clinging to her skirts is about the most forlorn creature on earth. Nobody wants her. No man would marry her on a bet, and, while her family may 'poor Mary' her, they don't want her to come back home with her brats to live on them."

Now, I'm not arguing the ethics of divorce. If a woman has no children and is capable of supporting herself, or if she has a private fortune that will take care of her and her children, I see no reason why she shouldn't take the first train to Rome if she so desires. But it is another pair of shoes when there is no money, no prospect of anything but a meagre dab of alimony at the best, and when there are children whose interests should be put above the passions of their parents."

"That was my case when I got tired of forgiving my husband and listening to his lies about this being the last time. I had long realized that he was one of the men who were born philanderers and that it was not in him to be true to any woman. As long as he lived he would be a petticoat-chaser. Otherwise he was well enough; amiable, kindly, easy to get along with, generous and a pleasant and interesting companion. And, like so many poor husbands, he was a good father; his children adored him."

"We had a comfortable home and were able to give the children every reasonable amount of education, and I could devote my entire time to them. But all of this was changed if I got a divorce. The home would be broken up. The children, separated from the father they loved, I would have to leave them alone during the day while I was out trying to help support them. They would be denied most of the comforts to which they had been accustomed because the income that supported one home adequately would be very thin if spread out over two. Besides, I felt pretty sure that a divorce would cost my husband his job, as his firm held very strict views on the subject."

"So my husband and I talked the matter over like rational human beings and agreed to settle the matter out of court, so to speak. I agreed to renounce all claims upon him as a husband and leave him free to go and come as he pleased, and do as he liked, without any questions or reproaches on my part. He has his own room. I have mine. And we do not intrude upon each other's privacy in any way."

He gives me a definite amount of money each month on which to support the family and I do not ask him what he does with the remainder of his income any more than I would pry into the finances of any other boarder. There are no more quarrels, scenes, reproaches, because in my own mind my husband has ceased to be my husband and is just a pleasant gentleman who makes his home in my house. And the children are happy and contented instead of being miserable and torn to pieces as they would be between a divided allegiance to a mother and father, both of whom they loved, but who hated each other."

Of course, I have suffered the pangs of disillusionment. I am often lonely and long for love, but so would I like to be a beauty, a genius or a millionaire. These things are not for me, so I put them out of my mind and make the best of a bad bargain, and I have been thankful enough in these hard times that I had my star boarder who kept our pot boiling."

"So my advice to women with philandering husbands is to take them on as boarders when they cease to be husbands. You can get along with any man when you quit trying to be his wife. And the women who have been left has salvaged something out of the wreck of an unfortunate marriage."

Uncle Wiggily's Shower Bath

By HOWARD E. GARIS

After the Hollow Tree School had closed for the summer vacation the weather became very hot in Woodland where Uncle Wiggily lived. The sun was shining brightly as it is every day after the Fourth of July and there was hardly a cloud in the sky.

Baby Buntz and the other little rabbits were playing in the cool, shady woods, but it was not one of them that played tag for a while, then Hop Scotch and they were so warm they had to stop.

"I know what I'm going to do," said Baby Buntz as she fanned herself with a leaf from a burdock plant.

"I hope you are going to think up some running game," said Jingle.

"No," said Buntz, "I will be a nice, cool game if Uncle Wiggily will help us play it. Here he comes now, I'm going to ask him."

Uncle Wiggily came hopping along. He, also, was looking for a cool place.

A NEW GAME.

"What kind of a game are you going to ask him to play?" said Jingle.

"A shower bath game," Buntz answered.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily," she called as Mr. Longears sat down on a flat stump to rest, "will you please make us a shower bath game to play? It's so hot it would be lovely if we could get cool under a shower bath here in the woods."

"Oh, yes, that would be a lovely game," said all the others.

"All right," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll make you a shower bath. But you must help me."

"What must we do?" asked Buntz, a top rabbit.

"First get me a large, empty tin can," said Uncle Wiggily. "A big can—the kind that holds five gallons of gasoline."

"Oh!" exclaimed Buntz, "we don't want gasoline shower bath!"

"Gilly!" laughed Baby Buntz. "As if Uncle Wiggily would do that!"

"I said an empty tin," spoke Mr. Longears. "One that has nothing in it; no gasoline, water or anything else."

"Well," said Buntz, "if the can hasn't any water in it I don't see how it can be a shower bath. You got to have water to take a bath."

"If you boys would do what Uncle Wiggily tells you instead of talking so much," said Baby Buntz, "maybe we'd have a shower bath and could get nice and cool."

SEARCH FOR CAN.

"That's right," said Jingle.

"All right," agreed Buntz. "Come on," he called to the others. "We'll go look for a big empty tin can."

"While they are doing that," said Uncle Wiggily to Jingle and Buntz, "please go and get some water for the shower bath."

"Oh!" exclaimed Jingle. "You aren't going to stick us with the ice pick, are you, Daddy?"

"Oh, how silly you are!" laughed Baby Buntz. "Of course, he isn't. Now go get the ice pick."

"I'll need the garden hose," some ropes and a lot of other things," said Uncle Wiggily. "We'll get them right away. We have to get them before Buntz and Jingle can get the ice pick and Uncle Wiggily had some ropes, string, sticks and other things to make the shower bath. First of all with the ice pick, he punched a lot of holes in the bottom of the can. As he was doing this he heard a noise in the bushes. "I must see what that is," said Mr. Longears. So he went to look.

So if you see the umbrellas taking the rubber boots out for a walk, I'll tell you what about Uncle Wiggily and the bushy.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

TUESDAY, JULY 9, 1935

Until late in the afternoon sinister planetary aspects rule, according to astrology. This may mean that there may be many disturbances and misunderstandings.

There is a slight danger of a serious quarrel and personal animosity. Both men and women will be severely criticized whether they deserve it or not, but men will suffer much more than women.

Good news affecting business is forecast for this day. Starting tomorrow, governmental policies will be announced in Europe.

This is a fortunate configuration for heads of big business corporations, lawyers and diplomats. The stars encourage leaders who think.

There is fair promise for persons who are not happy in their homes. They may be documents granting divorce. Leases and contracts should bring good luck.

Accidents in air travel are prophesied, but many safety devices for airplanes will be perfected before the end of the year.

Many disasters are prognosticated for various places on the globe and travelers are warned of new perils from robbers, who will operate in several ways. Public men should be exceedingly cautious to avoid danger, for again the seers prophesy death for an unusual number before the winter.

Persons whose birthdate it is to have the augury of a year of prosperity in which there may be new business and professional success. Many of these persons are for a relative may disturb certain women.

Children who are born on this day will be clever and active. Subjects of this sign are resourceful and likely to be successful in whatever they attempt.
